Chinese Launch New Offensive in Northeast

Truman Says A-Bomb Will Be Used If Necessary

RUSSIAN VETO EXPECTED ON KOREAN ISSUE

Lake Success, Nov. 30.—(P)—A Russian veto today was expected to block Security Council action on Korea—and the western powers planned to indict the Chinese Communists within 24 hours in the U. N. general assembly.

The assembly has scheduled a plenary session at Flushing Meadows tomorrow to consider several social items. It thus will be available to take up at once United States charges that the Chinese Communist aggression in Korea gravely threatens the world's peace.

While the assembly can only recommend, its powers in that direction are limitless. It could urge the 60 member governments to apply economic and diplomatic sanctions against Mao Tse-Tung's Peiping regime. It also could call on the members to rush more men and arms to Gen. Douglas MacArthur's hard-pressed United Nations forces in Korea.

Even if it avoided taking such firm steps at this stage of the crisis, the assembly still could record the majority's condemnation of the Chinese Communists.

Chief American delegate Warren R. Austin appeared to foreshadow such a condemnation yesterday when he told the Security Council the Chinese Reds have defied two-thirds of the world. He warned the Communists to take heed lest "all men's hands" be turned against them.

The council has before it a six-power resolution calling for withdrawal of Chinese Communist troops from Korea and giving Peiping assurances that U. N. forces will not cross the Korean-Chinese border. The Soviet delegation already has made plain it will veto the resolution. That would clear the way for tossing the whole matter to the veto-free assembly.

The council probably will not reach a vote on Korea until late this afternoon.

Austin issued this warning yesterday: "The United Nations will not submit to threats. The United Nations stands against aggression."

Ohio Hunter Rescued After Being Lost In Woods 24 Hours In Good Condition

A 35-year-old Ohio deer hunter was reported in good condition in Warren General Hospital today after being lost for nearly 24 hours in a heavily wooded section between the Farnsworth and Cherry Grove roads.

He is Alfred Wellman, of 1838 Central avenue, Toledo.

The hunter, who became separated from his party Tuesday afternoon about 4 o'clock, was found yesterday afternoon above the Tidewater pipeline. He was discovered about 2 p. m. crawling down an embankment by a man and a woman, neither of whose names were learned, who were hunting in that sector.

The man remained with the exhausted hunter, while the woman went to get help. Clarendon Volunteer firemen, under supervision of John Smith, members of the lost hunter's party and other hunters in that area responded.

They improvised a stretcher, and carried the man out of the heavy woods to a jeep, which then took the Ohio man into Clarendon where he was transferred to the Lutz-VerMilyea ambulance and brought to the hospital.

Wellman told his rescuers he had no dry matches and was unable to start a fire.

Medical authorities said he probably saved himself from freezing to death by keeping constantly on the move through the night and the following morning. When found, he was so exhausted that he was unable to stand up.

"VOICE OF AMERICA" IS BEING EXPANDED

Washington, Nov. 30.—(P)—The "Voice of America" has made facilities available to the United Nations for broadcasts to China and other parts of Asia.

A state department announcement yesterday said west coast transmitters are being used to give China and Asia full coverage on United Nations developments.

Seven transmitters were turned over to the U. N. Tuesday and yesterday for several hours. Two relay transmitters at Honolulu increase the power of the broadcasts.

Four-and-Half-Year-Old Girl Heroine of Near-Drowning In Allegheny Near Glade Bridge

The heroism of one youngster and the prompt action by a National Forge employee, saved two small Warren girls from certain death in the swollen Allegheny river yesterday afternoon.

The two girls were Karen Johnson, 4½-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Johnson, who reside at the Allegheny Hotel; and Linda Irwin, 3½-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Irwin, of 11½ Willey street.

The tots, suffering from shock and exposure, were retained overnight in Warren General Hospital following their harrowing experience, but their condition had improved sufficiently this morning to permit them to be taken home.

According to reports, Herman G. Nesmith, 36, of the Kinzua road, was on his way to work at the National Forge in a car driven by John Spencer, of Stoneham. As the car approached the northern end of the Glade bridge spanning the Allegheny river, Nesmith happened to look northward along the river shore and saw two children, both clothed in green snowsuits, struggling in the water at the foot of a steep 25-foot embankment.

Greeting Sign 250 Feet Long Will Be Erected In Crescent Park By Jaycees

The Jaycee Christmas displays are nearing completion and should be in place and lighted by December 15th. Richard Curran and James Bailey, co-chairmen report this morning that the Jaycees are working each night on the displays which are located in the warehouse in back of Kinneers on Liberty Street.

The most brilliant display will be the giant electrical sign to be placed on the river bank on the south side where it can be seen from the business section and Pennsylvania Avenue. Last year the sign said "Merry Xmas". This season it has been enlarged and will read "Merry Christmas—Happy New Year".

The sign is 250 feet long and contains 700 light bulbs. The letters are eight feet tall.

Across the river on the Pennsylvania Avenue bank, the Jaycees will erect five other large exhibits. Several of last year's projects were ruined by the extreme weather and much repair work has been done to get the others back into condition.

The giant "Jack in the Box" will be erected again as will "Santa's Reindeer", the "Sleeping Children in the House" and the "Nativity Scene". Many Christmas trees and a specially built sponsor sign in the form of a Christmas card will further enhance the setting.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce donated $350 toward the cost of putting up the displays for this Christmas. Since that time seven local industries and organizations have contributed to the fund. Helping the Jaycees in the financing of the project are the Florida Company, New Process Company, Clearing House Association, Struthers-Wells, Pennsylvania Electric, Pennsylvania Electric Company, and the Elks Club.

The chairman in charge of building the individual displays are James Hess, John Colter, Royce Black, John Newmaker, Milton Dahler, Alex Fino, and Harry Spiedel.

An eight-man crew of navy enlisted men and state police recovered the body from a six-foot water-filled crater yesterday. The navy Corsair plane crashed on the farm 15 miles north of here during a blinding snowstorm.

North Warren Firemen Honored Upon Completion Of School Of Instruction

Between 60 and 70 persons gathered in the North Warren community house last night for the open house meeting held by the North Warren Volunteer Fire Department to honor those fire fighters who have just successfully completed their 18 weeks of state fire school instruction.

Chris Pepke, serving as master of ceremonies, presented Ray Hughes, chief of the Kiantone fire department and mutual aid coordinator for Chautauque county. Mr. Hughes explained the program of statewide fire mobilization and control, the training of firemen, and the mutual aid program.

Leroy Horton, state fire school instructor from Kane, spoke briefly and then presented certificates to the following:
Harry Agnew, State Hospital

Nesmith leaped from the car, and quickly made his way down the icy bank, and pulled both youngsters to safety. The youngsters, one of them in an unconscious condition, were then carried up the steep bank to the Allegheny Hotel, and then rushed to the hospital by Warren Borough Councilman Nick Merenick, who operates a grocery store near the hotel.

Mrs. Johnson, mother of Karen, said that about ten minutes before the near-tragedy, the youngsters had been at the hotel and had gone coasting on a small grade near the gravel pit in Willey street.

Leaving their sled at the track, they had walked toward the river, crossed the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks and made their way down the steep bank to the river's edge. There Linda apparently slipped into the water and Karen, without hesitation, waded in and grabbed her companion's hand, and kept her from being carried away by the swollen water.

"He's certainly a hero to us," Mrs. Johnson said in extending her grateful thanks to Mr. Nesmith for his quick action in saving the youngsters.

WORLD CRISIS DISCUSSED IN ACHESON TALK

Washington, Nov. 30.—(P)—Secretary of State Acheson's declaration that the free world must "prepare for the worst" heralds an administration drive to speed an even greater arms program in both the U. S. and western Europe.

Officials said today that will be the government's initial response to the new global crisis created by Communist China's intervention in the Korean conflict.

The gravity of that crisis was pointed up by Acheson's warning to the nation and the world last night that "no one can guarantee that war will not come."

"We must hope and strive for the best while we prepare for the worst," he declared in a speech delivered from his office to the National Council of Churches of Christ in America, meeting at Cleveland and broadcast by radio and television. He had canceled plans to go to Cleveland because of the crisis.

There was little direct comment from congressional leaders on Acheson's speech. But three Republican senators—Wherry of Nebraska, Bricker of Ohio and McCarthy of Wisconsin—accused the secretary of trying to oust Gen. Douglas MacArthur as commander of U. N. forces in Korea.

In his speech, Acheson did not hint at any criticism of MacArthur. The three senators gave their views in separate interviews.

In a 2,500-word address, Acheson dealt with both the long-range dangers posed by Russia and the immediate threat of what he termed the "brazen aggression" of the Chinese Reds in Korea.

PROWLERS ARE BUSY IN THE ALTOONA AREA

Altoona, Nov. 30.—(P)—Police are on the watch for an influx of prowlers and burglars in Altoona's power blackout.

Most of the city has been without electricity since a weekend sleet storm damaged power lines. Patrolmen were told to keep a sharp eye out for men who may take advantage of the absence of street and house lights to burglarize homes.

Churchill Opens Grimmest Debate

London, Nov. 30.—(P)—Winston Churchill—76 years old today—is slated to open this afternoon the grimmest debate in Britain's house of commons since World War II.

The continuing discussion of foreign affairs—centered entirely on the Korean crisis—was expected to last more than six hours before Prime Minister Attlee closes it.

Attlee assumedly will reassure the tense house that he believes United Nations forces fighting Red aggression will win out in the end.

Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin told commons yesterday that a final settlement would be found "on political lines." Replying for the conservatives, former Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden complained that Bevin had told nothing of what was in the government's mind on Korea in the government's talks with the United States, France and Russia which might ease the currently perilous situation.

NO FLOOD THREAT

Pittsburgh, Nov. 30.—(P)—Despite the record breaking snowfall there is no serious flood threat in the Pittsburgh district. A spokesman for the rivers division of the Pittsburgh weather bureau said it would take temperatures at least in the high forties both night and day or a long warm rain to start a flood.

HAIRCUTS $1.35

Chicago, Nov. 30.—(P)—Prices of haircuts in Chicago area barbershops are going up a dime—to $1.35. Frank Allotta, secretary of the Master Barbers Association of Chicago, said the new prices will become effective Dec. 15.

Chinese Aggression In Korea Denounced In Bitter Terms By Executive In Talk With Press

Washington, Nov. 30.—(P)—President Truman declared today the United Nations forces will not back down in Korea, and that the atom bomb will be used if necessary to meet the military situation.

Mr. Truman's firm stand and mention of the most fearful weapon in the world's history came at a news conference filled to overflowing by 200 reporters.

The president said that whether the bomb was used was up to American military leaders in the field, but that personally he hoped it would not have to be employed.

This appeared on its face to mean the decision on dropping the bomb was one for Gen. Douglas MacArthur, but some two hours after the news conference the White House took pains to make it clear the final answer had not been left up to MacArthur.

A White House spokesman, who declined to be named, said Mr. Truman's remarks did not mean MacArthur himself can order use of the bomb. He noted that under the law all A-bombs are in custody of the Atomic Energy Commission, and that only the president himself can order their use.

Mr. Truman made these informal remarks after reading a formal statement denouncing in strong language the Chinese Communist aggression in Korea. He said the United States will meet the situation in three ways:

1. The U. S. will continue to work in the United Nations for "concerted action to halt this aggression in Korea."

2. It will intensify its efforts to help other free nations strengthen their defenses "to meet the threat of aggression elsewhere."

3. It will rapidly increase its own military strength.

The president said he will send to congress in a few days a request for more money to increase the size and effectiveness of our armed forces.

He would not say what total would be asked but said it would include a substantial amount for the atomic energy program, in addition to large amounts for the army, navy, and air force.

He will confer with congressional leaders tomorrow and urge them to give prompt consideration to the new funds.

STATEMENT STUNS BRITISH OFFICIALS

London, Nov. 30.—(P)—President Truman's statement that the commander in the field can decide whether to use the atomic bomb against Chinese Communists shocked and astounded British government officials today. Responsible officials in a number of key government departments including the defense ministry, war office and foreign office, all expressed the same stunned reaction. There was, however, no formal statement by any government department.

The president in his formal statement reiterated American policy to stand by its commitment to work for a peaceful world through the UN.

The president, during the question and answer period, jumped on Republican Senators Wherry, Bricker, and McCarthy for accusing Secretary of State Acheson of trying to oust General MacArthur as UN commander in Korea.

He said there is not one word of truth in the charge and added MacArthur has done a good job. Showing considerable anger, Mr. Truman said he is going to bust loose one of these days on what he called all this foolishness involved in attacking government officials.

Asked about criticism of General MacArthur in the European Press, the president said this has been true also in the American Press. Half smiling, he said these critics are always with MacArthur when things are going well, but against him when the situation reverses. Again, Mr. Truman said MacArthur has done a good job.

Six To Ten Enemy Divisions Confront Tenth Corps As Lull Is Reported In The Northwest

Washington, Nov. 30.—(P)—The Army reported today that U. S. Marines around the Changjin reservoir in northeast Korea are holding their line and are not in a hopeless position. An army spokesman told reporters at a Pentagon briefing that Chinese Communists, however, have established a number of road blocks behind the Marines in that sector. He said the Marines are being supplied by parachute drops from U. S. planes and have not yielded their positions. Field dispatches had reported that the U. S. soldiers and Marines in the reservoir area had been encircled and isolated by huge forces of Reds. These reports said the Marines on the northwest side and on the south side were cut off from each other by the Communists.

By The Associated Press
Seoul, Nov. 30.—(P)—Eighty thousand Chinese Reds on a new offensive were reported attacking United Nations forces in northeast Korea today. A curious lull fell on the frozen bloody battlefronts in the northwest.

Maj. Gen. Edward M. Almond told war reporters six to 10 Chinese divisions "suddenly confronted" his 10th Corps Forces in the northeast. Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker's Eighth Army in the northwest was similarly faced with 200,000 Red Chinese at the outset of the Communist offensive last weekend.

American Marines and Infantrymen around the Changjin reservoir were surrounded in Almond's area. They were battling fiercely but the Marine supply route was cut. Intelligence officers said possibly six of the divisions mentioned by Almond were in the forward attacking force. Some Red tanks were in use there.

In the northwest, AP Correspondent Hal Boyle reported after aerial observation that the last American troops protecting the bitter retreat of the U. S. Eighth Army across the icy Chongchon river pulled back safely through flaming Kunu.

Fighter planes strafed Chinese moving toward the town.

American vehicles crunched over the frozen brown road westward toward Anju, coastal communications hub, to join other United Nations forces retreating to a new and sharply constricted line.

An Eighth Army spokesman said wintry quiet prevailed over most of the northwest front throughout Thursday. This was confirmed by Correspondent Boyle who—flying low over the front—could spot no Chinese movements.

The lull came after Americans, British and Turks checked Communist efforts to unhinge the right flank and pin the allies against the Yellow seashore of West Korea.

In the northeast, AP Correspondent Tom Stone reported Chinese in overwhelming force continued their assaults on the U. S. First Marine Division and American Infantrymen around Changjin reservoir.

The heaviest fighting was northwest of the reservoir, three miles west of Yudam. Elements of the Fifth and Seventh Marine regiments were encircled. Also under heavy attack and isolated (Turn to Page Ten)

Last American Troops Protecting Rear Of Eighth Army Are Withdrawn Safely

By HAL BOYLE
In a 3th Air Force Plane Over Kunu, Northwest Korea, Nov. 30.—(P)—The last American troops protecting the retreat of the U. S. Eighth Army across a key ferry point on the Chongchon river withdrew safely today through flaming Kunu village.

A dozen fires sprouted in Kunu shortly before noon as fighter planes dived and strafed Chinese Red troops moving in to take it. After pulling out of Kunu, American vehicles moved in a packed column westward along the river bank to Anju. There they could join other Allied columns retreating south.

A group of tanks was stationed behind the vehicles at a road block two miles out of Kunu to smash any Red pursuit attempts. There was none.

The Chongchon river now is the dividing line that separates the bulk of the advancing Chinese Reds from the bulk of the retreating Eighth Army.

It is a winding, shallow stream about halfway between the former North Korean capital of Pyongyang and the Manchurian border. It isn't much of a military barrier.

A four-hour air lrp over the frozen battlefield showed intense activity on the United Nations side of the river.

There were no military movements of any kind on the Chinese side visible at 1,800 feet. No enemy troops or vehicles could be seen.

CARS OWNED BY LONG LOST COJNS CRASH

Oklahoma City, Nov. 30.—(P)—A couple of long lost cousins bumped into each other yesterday but it wasn't a happy reunion.

After their cars collided, they were arrested for not having driver's license.

Chris H. Rains, 29, Washington, Okla., said he hadn't seen his cousin, Mrs. Carole Dodson, 32, Oklahoma City, for many years.

Large Increase In Casualties Noted In Latest Report

Washington, Nov. 30.—(P)—Announced American casualties in the Korean war rose today to 31,028, an increase of 1,052 over a week ago.

These are casualties about which next of kin had been notified through Nov. 24. Some others may have occurred up to that time, but were not announced today because relatives have not been informed.

Of the total, 5,307 of the casualties were deaths. In addition, 3,954 were listed by the Defense Department as currently missing.

The number of non-fatally wounded was placed at 21,114.

On Nov. 24 relatives had been notified of a total of 4,611 persons missing in action. The number listed on that date as currently missing, was lower because 546 missing persons had returned to United Nations military control, 107 were known to be in enemy hands, and four had died. In the Defense Department's tabulation, the four (Turn to Page Eleven)

Trains Reversed On The Pennsy Due To A Defective Rail

A broken rail, discovered at Starbrick on the westbound track, resulted in reversing of westbound trains from Warren to Irvine this morning until repairs could be made.

The Northern Express, No. 581, was at the station at 8:55 o'clock this morning, and was reversed onto the eastbound track to Irvine. No. 970, as a result, had to wait at Irvine for clearance, and was about one and one-half hours late here.

Many crossings were cleared out yesterday, and it was necessary to use a bulldozer to do a good share of the work, railroad officials said. On the New York Central, one train was run through from Falconer yesterday, and made a appearance here about three o'clock in the afternoon. The locomotive, with a train behind, was pushing a coal car very slowly on Fourth avenue to dislodge snow and ice packed into the tracks by plows and automobiles.

Rent Control Bill Clears Committee

Washington, Nov. 30.—(AP)—A two-month extension of federal rent controls beyond Dec. 31, headed today for senate debate with predictions it will be approved quickly.

The extension legislation cleared the senate banking committee late yesterday by a 10-2 vote. Chairman Maybank (D-SC) later predicted to reporters it would clear the senate by a wide margin.

The present law is due to expire Dec. 31, except in communities which vote to keep them in effect to June 30. The resolution would set a Feb. 28 expiration date, while leaving unchanged the community extension period.

President Truman had asked congress to extend the law for 90 days to permit a study of the rent situation by the new 82nd congress.

Overhead Christmas Street Lights In Boro Draw Admiring Words Of Praise

The new overhead Christmas street lights sponsored by the Retailers Committee of the Warren Chamber of Commerce, with Ben Kinnear as general chairman, are being commented on very favorably by local citizens. They surely add much to the festive holiday appearance of the community, and those responsible for making the decorations possible surely deserve much credit.

The local members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers Union made a fine civic gesture when they offered to install the decorations on their own time without pay. The Pennsylvania Electric Company, C. Beckley, Inc. and Schaeffer Electric Company cooperated by furnishing the trucks and other equipment needed by the workers to make the installation.

The twenty members of the Chamber of Commerce Retailers Committee solicited funds from retail stores and other business places with which to finance the project and it was decided to publicize the names of the firms and individuals who contributed. Any individuals or business places who have not yet been contacted but feel they would like to add their contribution, should send their check to the Chamber of Commerce Christmas Street Lighting Fund, 312 Warren Bank & Trust Co. Bldg. This fund will be carried on from year to year, with complete overhead Christmas carnival lighting for Warren business sections the ultimate goal, similar to that enjoyed by some of the other communities in this area. Following is a list of contributors to the fund so far:

As big and thrilling as the vast stretches of dark Africa in which it was filmed is M-G-M's "King Solomon's Mines," remarkable adventure story filmed in Technicolor and starring Deborah Kerr and Stewart Granger, with Richard Carlson a third principal.

During five months on safari throughout Central and East Africa the stars and a troupe of twenty-one skilled Hollywood craftsmen covered 25,000 miles to film the H. Rider Haggard classic.

Deborah Kerr, following her Academy Award nomination for "Edward, My Son" and her outstanding performances in "Vacation From Marriage" and "Black Narcissus," plays her most arduous role as the woman who enters uncharted lands of the Dark Continent on safari. Richard Granger, leading romantic star of England, makes his first appearance in an American picture as the famed White Hunter of the story. Richard Carlson, popular leading man of both stage and screen, was signed for the picture while starring in Chicago in the stage play, "Mr. Roberts."

As the climax they filmed what may well take its place as one of the screen's all-time moments, a stampede of 8,000 wild animals—a roaring surge of zebras, wilde-

Livestock Entries At New Show Peak

Harrisburg—An all-time record number of livestock from Pennsylvania farms has been entered for competition at the Pennsylvania Farm Show here next January 8 to 12 inclusive, the Farm Show Commission has announced.

Listing of 1,723 head of horses, beef cattle, dairy cattle, swine and sheep establishes the first new record for the Anniversary show which Commission Chairman Miles Horst declares will surpass all previous shows.

Saturday, Nov. 18, was the deadline for filing livestock entries. The 1951 total exceeds the previous record of 1667 established at the 1950 show last January.

Beef cattle entered for competition at the coming exposition total 291, an all-time record. Of these, 130 will be entered by 4-H Baby Beef club members and the remaining 161 are entered in the open class fat cattle division.

With 554 dairy cattle entries received by the Commission the dairy show will be the largest ever held. The same is true for the swine show with 376 head entered. The sheep entries total 414 head and horses listed total 87 head.

Five Disappearances In As Many Years Prove Mystery For People In Vermont

Bennington, Vt., Nov. 30—(P)—Five times in five years this little corner of southwestern Vermont has seen people walk away into nothingness.

And Bennington folk are worrying about it this week, which marks the fourth anniversary of one of this region's most puzzling and widely-noted disappearances, the strange case of 18-year-old Paula Welden.

Fresh in the minds of Bennington residents are the fourth and fifth disappearances—one on the heels of the other—within the past seven weeks.

The series of woodland mysteries began five years ago when Middle Rivers, Bennington hunter, fisherman and woodsman, spy for his 75 years, failed to rejoin four hunting companions at a camp. He was last reported November 12, 1945, in Hell Hollow—between Bald and Glastenbury mountains. Searchers combed the autumn woods in vain.

One year passed and then, on a lowering Sunday afternoon, December 1, 1946, Paula Welden, blonde Bennington College student from Stamford, Conn., donned sneakers, dungarees and a red parka, and hitch-hiked from the campus for a stroll up the slope of that same Glastenbury mountain.

Police are still looking for her. Perhaps James E. Tedford, 65, didn't disappear in the Bennington area. But relatives saw him aboard a bus, Bennington-bound from St. Albans, December 1, 1949. The Vermont soldier's home in Bennington, where Tedford lived, reported he never arrived there.

Autumn again had come to this mountain-ringed town when, on October 12, this year, little Paul Jepson, 8, of Shaftsbury, wandered away from his mother's truck in a wooded tract not far from where Paula Welden vanished. The lad, unable to attend school because of a handicap he had since birth, was last seen near an abandoned mine in Bennington's Brooklyn section. A bloodhound-aided search petered out or a rain-obiterated trail.

If you should swing a circle with a six-mile radius around this Vermont region so that its western edge took in the site where the Jepson boy dropped from sight, the circle would include:

1. The spot where Middle Rivers last was seen.
2. The section of the Long Trail (a mountain trail to Canada), which Paula Welden apparently walked into oblivion.
3. An area in lonely Somerset where, on October 28 of this year, Mrs. Frieda Langer, 53, of North Adams, Mass., vanished.

With active search for Mrs. Langer—last to disappear—now ended, General Merritt A. Edison, Vermont public safety commissioner and head of the state police, reported no new clue had shed any further light on any of the disappearances. All five persons are listed in state police files as "missing."

Mrs. Langer had left her husband, Max, 58, resting in their camp with a rheumatic knee. She had started on a hunting hike with her cousin, Herbert Elsner. They had walked less than an hour through the dense woods of Mount Pasgah when Mrs. Langer fell, trying to cross a shallow creek, and drenched part of her clothing.

Elsner later reported she started back to camp for dry clothing, saying she would take a short cut. That was at 3:50 p. m., he said. But at 4:45, when he got back to camp, Mrs. Langer had not returned. He and her husband went in search and state agencies were called in, but she never has been seen since.

ON ROAD FOUR DAYS

Titusville Herald.—Danny Gray, 20, son of Mr and Mrs James Gray of the Church of Christ, was four days on the road between Trenton, N. J., and Titusville, where he arrived Tuesday night. A baritone singer, he was scheduled to participate in Sunday services at that church and in the services being held each night this week, including Saturday. Leaving Trenton by car Saturday morning, he expected to be here that night. Instead he spent it on the Pennsylvania Turnpike, huddled in his automobile. Sunday night he reached Irwin, where he joined other stranded travelers in the Presbyterian church which had been opened for them. He was fed and stayed there for that night and also Monday night. He will sing at the Church of Christ beginning tonight.

Seventy-five per cent of all automobile parts makers are located within 300 miles of Detroit.

State Relief Fund May Be Exhausted By April of 1951

Harrisburg—(P)—Pennsylvania's $186,000,000 relief fund for 1949-51 has now dwindled to $40,000,000 and may fall some $13,000,000 short of lasting out the biennium.

Based on the present monthly expenditure rate of $6,800,000, the public assistance fund may be exhausted by April of next year.

This would mean the 1951 legislature would have to appropriate about $17,000,000 in deficiency funds to carry the relief program to the May 31 conclusion of the two year fiscal period.

This would be nothing new, however, since legislators in the past several sessions have had to make special deficiency appropriations for relief. The 1947-49 deficiency amount was $10,600,000.

The size of the deficiency appropriation required by the 1951 general assembly for relief purposes will depend on the number of persons on relief during winter months.

Robert Wray, deputy public assistance secretary, said today the relief outlook for the coming winter months is "very encouraging."

He said the impact of defense orders has boosted employment causing a steady decline in the relief load for the past several months. The load during the period from Oct. 1 to Nov. 1 dropped from 340,000 to 330,000 persons.

This compares with a load of about 419,000 persons last winter when monthly relief outlays spurred by coal and steel strikes were averaging about $9,000,000 a month. It was feared at that time that public assistance funds would run out by next January, requiring an emergency deficiency appropriation of some $25,000,000.

Declining relief rolls since that time, however, have eased the situation.

The 1949 legislature earmarked $161,000,000 for relief for the current biennium and set up an emergency contingency fund of $25,000,000 to use if the regular relief fund proved insufficient. The combined amount totaling, $186,000,000, was the largest relief chunk earmarked by the legislature since World War Two. This was still far under relief expenditures made during the depression years, however, when appropriations ran well over $200,000,000.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

I Have A "Close Squeak"!

Spent last Saturday morning wandering all over the house. Wherever I went—upstairs or down—I kept hearing a "squeak." Couldn't find out where it was coming from until noon-time when the missus came home from her weekly shopping.

"Listen," I says to her, "hear that squeak?" I started walking real quiet-like across the kitchen and there it went again! "Joe Marsh," she laughs, "that is nothing but your suspender clips rubbing back and forth when you walk!" And darned if it wasn't!

From where I sit, I'd been letting a little thing become a serious problem. Like some little difference of opinion or taste will start off a great big argument. I may prefer a temperate glass of beer with my dinner—while the missus likes tea—but we figure that no two people have exactly the same likes and dislikes. So, why get all "het up" about it?

The moral is, check your suspenders—and check your temper when it comes to little things.

POTOMAC FEVER

Nobody really expects the short closing session of the 81st Congress to accomplish much. Some emergency defense appropriations, perhaps new aid to stricken Yugoslavia, but little else.

We suspect the real purpose of this meeting is to allow the defeated lawmakers, the ones who won't be back in January, to look for new jobs in Washington.

Naturally a lot of them will go home and stay there. But plenty won't. Washington gets in the blood, like Hollywood. The place already is overrun with former congressmen.

As with Hollywood in the entertainment world, so with Washington in the realm of big events. Many legislators just can't face the relative quiet of home after they've known the capital's atmosphere of marching history. They open law offices, do lobbying work and numerous other jobs tied in some way to federal government activity.

Years ago a magazine writer summed it up perfectly when he said: "They never go back to Pocatello."

JUST BE PATIENT, GIRLS

The value of a Harvard education is scheduled to take a big jump. Edward R. Reynolds, vice president of the University, says Harvard may not be able to afford maid service for dormitories next year if wage scales continue to go up. This would compel students to make their own beds. If the inflationary spiral isn't checked, it's logical to expect that the university will project this policy into other fields. Once a Harvard man has been taught to make his own bed it's a short step to teach him to vacuum the rugs and sweep the corridors. The result inevitably will be a rush of girls to marry Harvard men, a new breed of intellectuals not only ornamental to the drawing room but gosh-darned handy at helping with the housework.

Hal Boyle's Comment

BY HAL BOYLE

With U. S. 24th Division, Korea—(P)—It is a frontline position that has been under heavy fire. The troops are nervous. Panic rumors are spreading that the enemy is about to overwhelm them.

A jeep crawls to a halt near the command post in the valley. Out on the jeep bounces a stocky, wide-shouldered figure in a worn combat uniform.

A doughboy takes one look at him and calls out:

"Why, it's the Big Six!"

The "Big Six"—Col. Richard W. Stephens, commander of the 21st Infantry Regiment—turns and nods cheerfully. All the doughboys nearby grin back and their tension begins to disappear. They have faith in their "Big Six."

The colonel goes into the command post and confers briefly with the young officer there. He comes out carrying a burp gun. He and a guide go along across the hills toward the American position under heaviest fire.

When they trudge back later in the day the battlefront situation is strengthened out. Or, if the enemy pressure is too heavy, the American unit is already alerted to make a calm and orderly withdrawal to a better defense line.

But there will be no panic retreat with Colonel Stephens around. "The atmosphere changes when ever he shows up," one of his officers said. "He really can buck people up. He is top quality—damned aggressive, and he combines that with a great deal of common sense."

In the early stages of the war the colonel went up on foot and personally led a surrounded battalion, safely back through the encircling lines. He has won two silver stars and is now in for a distinguished service cross.

But isn't for his personal valor alone that Stephens is regarded by many as one of the finest regimental commanders in the American army. It is for his battle wisdom and his ability to instill a fighting spirit in even the weariest soldier.

Men like to serve under him because he seems to know exactly what to do in any combat situation and because "he never gets excited."

Higher commanders like to call him for the same reason. They know he will do everything that can possibly be done in any emergency.

As a result his regiment has become a chief fire house of the Korean campaign. It has traveled more than 1,000 miles and been in contact with the enemy almost constantly since July 5. The men of the 21st are proud that their regiment has "never failed to take its objective or do the job assigned."

At 48, the "Big Six" looks more like a genial, balding sales executive than the public idea of a professional soldier. But he is rugged. This war has been rough on regimental commanders. Stephens is one of only two who have remained in charge of their units throughout the entire campaign.

In the evenings he likes to sit in his command post singing or whistling "cow music"—he is from Pierre, S. D.—or talking over military campaigns. He was chief of staff of the famous 30th Infantry division in Europe during the last war and particularly enjoys re-fighting the Battle of the Bulge.

The great loves of his life are the American army and the American GI—whom he calls "Willie Spratt."

"The American soldier is no different than he ever was," Stephens said. "He had a lot to learn about combat here, and he did it quickly. He used his weapons well."

"On occasion I have wished he had more desire for hand-to-hand combat. But only a few rugged individuals are like that."

"More than the soldiers of other countries he likes to rely on his equipment to do his job for him—artillery, tanks, airplanes."

"But I'm for him. Why should you lose your own soldiers when you can kill the enemy with bombs or shells?"

It is for this attitude that the troops under him have developed a personal affection for their "Big Six" that is deeper than their admiration of his soldierly skill. They know he will never waste their lives because when the going is tough he is usually right there with them.

From Here On, and How Far?

Here And There

Having received from Ruth W. Perry, horticultural chairman for the Garden Club Federation of Pennsylvania, Western Region Office, an appeal for help to save the Pennsylvania state flower, the mountain laurel, from destruction, we are glad to pass along the information contained in a circular letter which says:

"At the rate in which it is now being ruthlessly uprooted and sold in order to green our vanity and decorate our streets for a few days at a time; I predict that within a maximum of ten years it will be impossible to find any laurel in our mountains except in State owned acres or private estates."

"I was appalled last week to read on the front page of one newspaper that, quote, truck loads of laurel had been cut, brought into the city and dumped in a parking lot for free distribution to anyone wishing to decorate for the Fall Festival. If you multiply, informed as to the seriousness of these truckloads by the hundreds, the situation regarding our Laurel of communities who are decorated for like festivals and then multiply it again by hundreds of truckloads that will be cut and used to make laurel ropes and decorations, which a great many communities believe necessary to the successful decorating of their streets at the Christmas season—then multiply this by the years ahead, it doesn't take much of a mathematician to prove that the time is right ahead when there will be no more LAUREL. OUR OWN STATE FLOWER IN OUR MOUNTAINS."

"Just as effective decorations may be made with manufactured materials I hold that a law should be enacted which would make it an offense to cut, sell or display the laurel, dogwood or ground pine in street or other public decorations. We protect our wild animals and birds—why not our State Flower?"

"I feel that our citizens are not being properly informed as to the seriousness of the situation regarding our Laurel of communities who are decorated for like festivals and then multiply it again by hundreds of truckloads that will be cut and used to make laurel ropes and decorations, which a great many communities believe necessary to the successful decorating of their streets at the Christmas season—then multiply this by the years ahead, it doesn't take much of a mathematician to prove that the time is right ahead when there will be no more LAUREL. Former New Deal Stars Return As Spokesmen for Big Business

BY PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—This I had to see. The telegraphed invitation said that Beardsley Rumel, Wilson W. Wyatt, Leon Henderson and others would be in the Potomac Room of the Statler Hotel between 4 and 6 p. m. It said also they'd be happy to discuss any questions on the proposed excess profits tax.

Beardsley Rumel is the big, genial, New York businessman with his fingers in so many pies that it's impossible to keep track of them all. He is the man, you'll remember, who invented the Rumel "pay as you go" plan to make income taxes less painful.

Wilson Wyatt and Leon Henderson, remember them? Mr. Henderson was the first wartime CEA administrator. Before that he had been with the NRA Blue Eagle outfit of depression days. He was an original New Dealer. He was the particular private, number one devil of big and little business all through the war—that is up to the time things got so bad with Congress that President Roosevelt had to let him go.

Wyatt was the Emergency Housing Expediter at the end of the war. Before that he had been the boy wonder mayor of Louisville and a considerable whizz. But do you remember how the real estate lobby and the home builders' lobby and all the landlords and most congressmen hated him?

In fact, the principal charge leveled against Henderson and Wyatt was that they wanted to regiment and socialize the country. They wanted to kill private enterprise, etc., etc.

So where were they now? They were up in a private dining room at the Statler dishing it out that an excess profits tax on business such as proposed by President Truman was unfair and discriminatory, that it would feed inflation, that it would stifle growth of business and be bad for the free enterprise system.

Since their departure from government, under business pressure, as it were, Mr. Henderson has been in the economic consultant business in Washington. Mr. Wyatt has returned to the practice of law. They are now known as economic consultant and legal counsel respectively for an outfit known as "The Business Committee on Emergency Corporate Taxation."

This organization and its background are not without interest. You'll remember that earlier in the year there was quite a drive on to repeal federal excise taxes. Excise (sales) taxes, that is, not the excess profits tax they're talking about now.

Anyway, an emergency committee on excise taxes was formed then. Such taxes were said to be hurting business. Congress was sold on the idea, and was all ready to repeal many of these excise taxes when along came the Korean war. The committee of business leaders agitating for repeal of such taxes promptly advised Congress to forget it. So the taxes stayed on.

LATER in the summer, at the end of the regular session of Congress, when it became apparent that the Truman administration wanted a wartime excess profits tax slapped on, leaders of the old anti-excess profits committee began to get busy.

They held a little luncheon meeting in New York on Oct. 19. Eleven days later they held a bigger meeting. Out of it was born this Business Committee on Emergency Corporate Taxation.

The argument of the committee is that it doesn't care how much the government says it has to raise by taxes on business. The government can name its own figure. But just don't try to collect any of it by an excess profits tax. This unusual philosophy, or line, was admitted to be due to the leavening influence of such liberals as Messrs. Rumel, Henderson and Wyatt.

So here they were. Good old Leon. Good old Wilson. Plugging for business now, not trying to destroy it as they were accused of doing during the last war.

Pennsylvania with a membership of 150 active garden clubs throughout the state of Pennsylvania has banned the use of laurel, dogwood, ground pine, arbutus, etc. from use in any flower show and arrangements. Using these plants are debared from competition.

"Will you please give this letter recognition in your paper? I believe that through your paper, our schools, our service clubs and other prominent organizations, we can bring this matter to the attention and serious consideration of our citizens and can protect and increase our lovely laurel plantings so that, in June to come, as we roll through our wonderful mountains, we will be thrilled as we feast our eyes on this OUR STATE FLOWER—THE MOUNTAIN LAUREL."

This And That Motorists who mark cars on the Hickory street bridge greatly narrowed because of snow banks on both sides, are taking big chances and should not be chagrined if their vehicles figure in fender-damaging collisions.

A subscriber called on the phone to express curiosity over the fact that faster progress is not made in clearing the streets of the borough of the accumulation of snow, since the department has a high-priced snow loader to help in the work.

Another patron requests publication of the following, discovered in an out-of-town paper. "While watching a fire I overheard two small girls talking. When the younger one asked if the fire was over yet and if the firemen were leaving, the other seriously replied 'Oh, don't be silly! They still have two more windows to knock out!'"

A reader, fearful that serious accidents will result if the practice is permitted to continue, suggests printing a warning to kiddies to refrain from chasing after and hanging onto back bumpers of motor vehicles several close calls have already been reported.

According to reports New York state automobile licensees will be front and back in 1951, instead of being just back as they have been for the past few years, they go on sale December 1, but cannot be used until January first.

When Erie Strong Vincent comes here tomorrow afternoon to meet the Warren High grid warriors in the final game of the season, it is probable that the two schools will battle on a gridiron which will be covered with ice and snow, as the cold wave which struck this section this week shows no signs of a let-up for the Turkey Day tilt.

Highways near Erie are blocked with a heavy snowfall while temperatures range from 3 to 20 degrees.

Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed the large hunting lodge on the experimental plot of the Howard Tree Experts in Glade Township on the Hatch Run Road, nothing remaining of the structure but the brick chimney where the fireplace stood.

A large number of automobiles were driven through Warren Thursday carrying carcasses of doe, and most of them are believed to have been killed in Elk county, where it was estimated that ten thousand hunters roamed the woods on Thanksgiving day in quest of the antlerless deer and small game as well.

Because of the low stage of the river it freezes over easily this season. It was frozen solidly between the bridges early Thursday morning. Need for rain in all sections of the state continues acute. Water supply in the rural sections is practically nil. In the vicinity of Garland springs never known to dry up before have had no water for weeks.

Men In Service

News dispatches received from the Ryukyu Command headquarters on Okinawa concern two local men, Lt. Col. William J. Leight, 3 Glenwood street, and James Landway, of Russell. The former, shipping out from Camp Stoneman, Calif., via military transport, has arrived on the island for a tour of duty. A former student at Pennsylvania State College, Col. Leight is a veteran of World War II and a member of the American Legion. Landway, graduate of Warren High School, has been promoted to corporal for proficiency in duties while assigned to the 590th Engineer Utilities Company on Okinawa. Enlisting in the Army at Erie in June, 1949, he was formerly stationed at Ft. Belvoir, Va., and shipped overseas in March of this year.

Another overseas dispatch states that 1st Lt. Lawrence F. Brown, 31 Jefferson street, Tidoute, is a member of the famous 27th "Wolfhound" Regiment of the 25th Infantry Division in Korea, an outfit which has been in almost continuous action on the front since July 12.

Undergoing six weeks of physical conditioning and military training at Ft. Dix, N. J., is William E. Schaffer, son of Mrs. Mildred F. Schaffer, Jackson street extension. He has been assigned to Company I, 60th Infantry Regiment, 9th Infantry Division.

From Keesler Air Force Base, Biondi, Miss., comes word that 1st Lt. James H. McGuire, son of Mrs. Catherine McGuire, 4 Buchanan street, has recently arrived at that station to attend radar observer's school. He and his wife, with their four children, Patrick, Daniel, James, Mike, and Maureen, are residing at the base. Lt. McGuire received his commission at Columbus Air Force Base, Miss., in April, 1944 and served overseas with the 10th Air Force in Guam from April to November, 1945.

Anthony R. Marasco, Jr., 20 North State street, North Warren, has been advanced to aviation electrician's mate, first class, at the U. S. Naval Air Test Center, Patuxent River, Md. Marasco was graduated from the local high school and entered the Navy in September, 1942.

Sgt. Robert C. Magee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Magee, 115 Canton street, has recently been assigned to Bolling Air Force Base in Washington, D. C. Graduate of Warren High in 1937, Magee was later employed by General Electric in Erie. He enlisted in the Air Force in August, 1942, and upon completion of basic training at San Antonio, Texas, attended an airplane and engine mechanic course at Amarillo, Texas.

For holiday parties, these evening bags designed by Alan merge glamor with practical roominess. A cocoa blonde satin bag (right) in a simple silhouette has fine-edged frame, narrow chain handle, is worn with designer Margi Snyder's short silk dress with scooped neckline. A black velvet pouch bag (upper left) has a clasp of baroque pearls. The fold-over purse for evening (upper right) in an envelope type opens to a deep pouch bag with curved metal frame. A brocade evening bag (lower left) looks like a French candy box, is trimmed with black velvet. A simple elongated envelope clutch bag in velvet (lower right) is lined in contrasting satin, has baroque pearl clasp.

County Boy Writes Interesting Letter Of Experiences During Collision At Sea

Two destroyers engaged in fleet maneuvers collided in the dark Atlantic early the morning of Nov. 8 about 400 miles off the North Carolina Coast. Four men were killed instantly and one died later of injuries.

On board one of the destroyers was a sailor from Grand Valley, Herbert M. Walters, EMEN, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Walters of Route 1, Titusville.

In a letter to the Titusville Herald dated Nov. 17 he gives a graphic account of the collision. He was on the U. S. S. Charles H. Roan and the other destroyer was the Brownson, neither of which sank. During the night exercises, all of the 100 ships in the maneuvers were darkened when the accident occurred. Walters tells how it felt:

"I don't know whether the collision of two warships means much to the people back home or not, but I'm going to tell you what it is like to be aboard one of those ships.

"I reported aboard the Destroyer Charles H. Roan on Feb. 9, 1949, and I have gone a lot of places on her. I was and still am very proud of her. She was one of the mightiest of the late type destroyers. She has the newest radar, sonar, and ordnance equipment available. Yet a little after 1 a. m. on the morning of Nov. 8 she was rammed by another destroyer of the same type.

"I was asleep when it happened. The sound of crunching and ripping steel awakened me. My first thought was that we had run aground. Then I heard the bubbling of fuel oil and water, and knew the living compartment was flooding. I got up immediately, but before I could walk 35 feet to the ladder I was waist deep in oil and water.

"There was no sign of panic among the guys living in the compartment when we reached the main deck an officer told us we had been rammed by the Brownson.

"We had to climb up past what had been our after three inch machine gun mount. There we saw the bodies of our shipmates pinned under twisted steel and powder tanks. We could also see down into the first class quarters where a boatswain's mate was pinned by a steel beam through his stomach. From there I could also see the damage done to the main deck and deck house. It was a mass of twisted steel.

"We immediately started getting our buddies out of the gun mount, but it shifted before we could rescue all who were still alive. The ones who weren't rescued were crushed by the gun, which weighed many tons.

"Many of us lost everything we had but we were too tired and too busy to think about it.

"We just drifted helplessly until morning then the third destroyer of our division took us in tow, and towed us for 24 hours. Then she was relieved by a sea-going tug, which brought us the rest of the way to the U. S. Naval Air Station at Kings Point, Bermuda. We arrived about 2 p. m. the 12th of November. All that time the damage control parties fought to keep the ship afloat. I know few of us averaged more than eight hours sleep during those four days.

"I wish to express my sincere belief that no group of men working as hard for the first eight hours as did the hospital corpsmen and doctors. Doctors and corpsmen came over from other ships, and they worked hard and fast trying to save the men in an emergency. There is no one who can keep up with the medical corps.

"It makes me very sad to think of our shipmates who lost their lives in that terrible accident. There were five altogether. Two were Reservists who had just been called back to active duty. Some of them had wives and children.

A CHRISTMAS CAROL

Young Scrooge used to have the time of his life at Old Fezziwig's Christmas parties. No one was jollier than Scrooge, none danced more with Fezziwig's six pretty daughters.

And never was there such music as used to come from Fezziwig's well-fueled fiddler!

High point of the evening was when the fiddle struck up "Sir Roger de Coverley" and Mr. Fezziwig took the floor with Mrs. Fezziwig.

Whisking him away from the Fezziwigs', the Ghost took Scrooge back to the scene of his broken engagement. His fiancée rejected him because another idol had replaced her—a golden one.

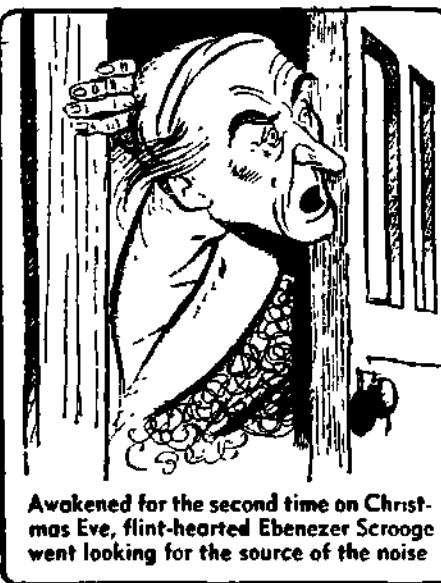

And then, Scrooge saw what might have been.

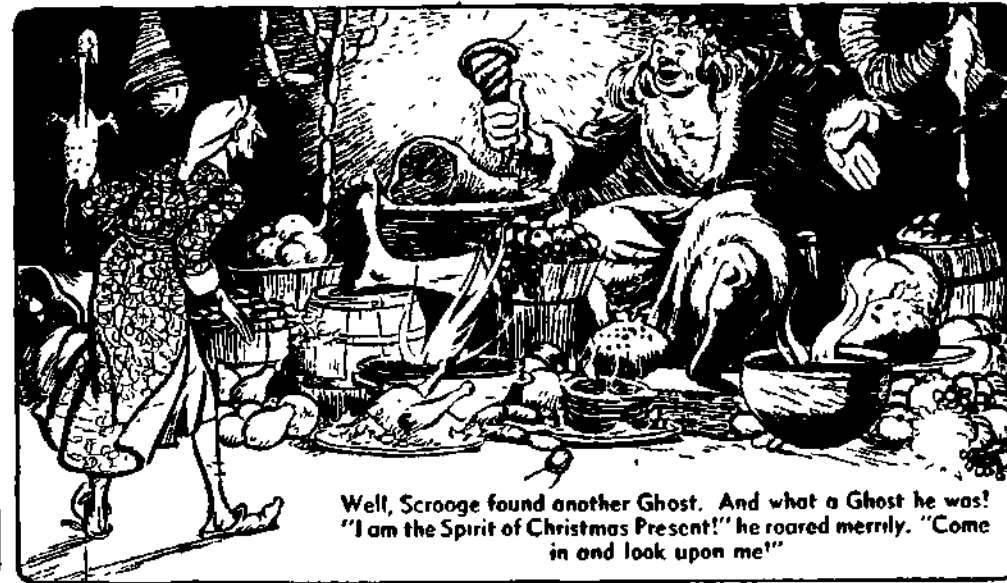

With that, the Ghost of Christmas Past deposited Scrooge in his bed, utterly exhausted, and disappeared.

But it seemed only seconds until Scrooge was awakened by weird sounds from the next room.

Awakened for the second time on Christmas Eve, flint-hearted Ebenezer Scrooge went looking for the source of the noise.

Well, Scrooge found another Ghost. And what a Ghost he was! "I am the Spirit of Christmas Present!" he roared merrily. "Come in and look upon me!"

The Ghost of Christmas Present took Scrooge into the street, where there was music—the music of people wishing each other "Merry Christmas!"

"We are here in Bermuda for temporary repairs, which are being made by the U. S. S. Amphion AR-12, a repair ship, and the U. S. S. Host ARS-40 which is a salvage and repair vessel. From here we are to go to the Boston Naval Shipyard for about six to eight months."

The sailor is a graduate of Titusville High school and attended Grove City College for two years prior to enlisting in the Navy in June, 1948. After he completed his recruit training at Great Lakes, Ill., he was assigned to his present ship.

His address is: Herbert M. Walters, E M F N-U. S. N., E Division, U. S. S. Charles H. Roan (DD853), care F. P. O., New York, N. Y.

IRVINE

Irvine, Nov. 28—Chester Mason, Tom Drayer and Bob Blum have been lucky nimrods in our vicinity, each bringing home a doe.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Ruhman, Sugar Grove, were unday guests at the home of Mr and Mrs Otto Bliss.

Mrs. Laura Wing spent Wednesday and Thursday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. K. Bonner, in Port Allegany Mr and Mrs. Leigh Nulph and children spent Thanksgiving Day at the Bonner home.

Mr. and Mrs. Denny Murphy have sold their home and are moving to Warren.

The Charles McCartney family, Rochester, N. Y., came to spend the Thanksgiving holidays with her mother, Mrs. J. A. Murray, and are storm bound and still here. Mr and Mrs Charles Chase have rented Mrs. Jessie Lightner's home for the winter during her stay in Chicago.

Mr and Mrs. Guv Walters, Mr. and Mrs. Art Rickle, Erie, were callers at the Ross Walters home Thursday.

Washington Letter

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—World War III—if this is it—is being ushered in just like World War II. Before the last war, there were big assurances that there would be enough aluminum for all defense needs. Instead of which, there was an initial shortage. Here it is again.

U. S. government agencies are now trying desperately to have aluminum production stepped up by 50 per cent or more.

This is one aspect of the National Production Authority's 35 per cent cutback order on aluminum use which is not generally understood. What the government is now trying to do is get aluminum supply in such condition that the NPA cutback order can itself be cut back, if not completely repealed.

Present production capacity of the U. S. aluminum industry is around 750,000 tons a year. It is divided (roughly) in this manner: 50 per cent Aluminum Co. of America, 30 per cent Reynolds Metals, 20 per cent Kaiser Aluminum.

Discussions between this big three and U. S. General Services Administrator Jess Larson have been aimed at increased annual production of at least 325,000 tons, for the first bite. More, maybe, later. One important point on this proposed expansion is that the entire $450 million cost would be borne by private industry. There is still some snarl up on terms. Producers have wanted a guarantee that all metal produced would be bought by the government. They have wanted escalator clauses in the contract, guaranteeing that higher prices would be paid if labor or other costs went up. They have wanted guarantees on profits.

So far, the most the government has been willing to guarantee is the private bank loans to finance the expansion.

OUT of these discussions, however, has come an appreciation of the need to get a few more companies into the production of aluminum. While the so-called "monopoly" held by Alcoa before the last war has been broken by court action, there is considerable opinion in government circles that the industry needs still more competition.

This presents tremendous problems. It may require 100 per cent government subsidy. No small company can undertake the big investment necessary to get into aluminum production on its own.

Approaches have been made to companies like Olin Corp., Anaconda Copper and American Smelting and Refining, but there have been no deals closed with them.

Two companies have gone into the business in a modest way. Apex Smelting of Chicago has bought one line of rectifiers for a new plant in Arkansas. Harvey Machine Co., of Torrance, Calif., has also bought one line of rectifiers for a new plant near Hungry Horse Dam, Mont.

WITH these installations, the last of the government-owned aluminum production equipment which was considered surplus at the end of the war will be again in operation.

More production can't be put in the Pacific northwest for lack of electric power. Any new plants will have to be built near new sources of cheap power as well as cheap water transportation for movement of bauxite and alumina. This limits expansion to such spots as the Gulf Coast area, the navigable Mississippi valley system, or to regions near coal or natural gas deposits where steam power can be generated at mine sites or pipeline terminals.

One other possible source of supply is Japan. Before the war, Japan had aluminum capacity of 100,000 tons. Up to half of that is still left. Some repair would be necessary to get it back in production. But if Japan could supply say 35,000 tons, it would greatly reduce the need for the present cutback order.

The recent Canadian production offer of some 400,000 tons turned out to be something of an exaggeration. Only 20,000 to 35,000 tons could have been available this year. The rest was to come from capacity still to be built, financed by U. S. capital.

Aaron Rosand's Program for Tonight's Recital Promises To Be Violin Treat

Perusal of reviews written by the country's leading music critics after they had experienced the pleasure of listening to one of Aaron Rosand's violin recitals indicates that members of the Warren Jaycee-sponsored concert series are in for a genuine treat this evening at the Woman's Club.

Second in the series of attractions booked for this season, Rosand is adding further lustre to an already brilliant reputation in his current swing around the country.

For his program here at 8.30 o'clock this evening he has chosen the following compositions:

- Chaconne Vitali
- Sonata in A Major, Opus 100 Brahms
- Concerto in D Minor Wieniawski
- Pregiera Rachmaninoff-Kreisler
- Valse Sentimentale, Opus 51 Tschakowski
- Guatara Moszkowski
- Jamaican Rumba Benjamin
- Carmen Fantasia Sarasate-Rosand

Martin Cann will be at the piano to play the young violinist's accompaniments.

Jaycee music committee chairman, J. P. Nelson, again reminds that admission to the events of this concert series is by season membership only and there are no single tickets available.

REPORTING

Almost everyone agrees that reading is a fine thing. Think of the thousands of people who say, "I'd just love to read if I had the time for it." And it was Francis Bacon who, to the everlasting amusement of high school students, said, "Reading maketh a full man." Bringing it down to our own day, the great physician, Sir William Osler, stated it this way, "with half an hour's reading in bed every night as a steady practice, the busiest man can get a fair education before the plasma sets in the periganglionic spaces of his grey cortex." (Bet you never thought of it that way before!)

Here is a sample assortment of books received recently by the Warren Public Library:

THE MILL ON THE FLO, by Bacchelli, is a modern Italian classic comparable, in style and content, with War and Peace. It is a family story unfolded against a background of the years from 1821 to 1872, when Italy was becoming a nation.

WATCH FOR THE MORNING, by Thomas Sugrue, is a true story of a nation's birth and growth. Mr. Sugrue has written the dramatic and moving account of modern Israel from his own experiences there and his being a Roman Catholic gives his record perspective.

THE PEACOCK, by Jan Godden, has been reviewed as a book for the reader tired of mediocrity. The setting is a holiday camp in the jungles where the personal problems of the people involved, combined with eerie settings, are intensified to the point of drama. As is typical of the Godden sisters as writers, the book is noteworthy for style as much as for plot.

KON-TIKI, by Heyerdahl, is a true story of a primitive adventure. Six men crossed the Pacific on a balsa wood raft to prove that in just that way, the early people of Peru could have migrated to the Polynesian Islands. The fact that their trip was a success was no proof of earlier voyages, but it makes a wonderful story.

WHAT, NO COPPER? When a copper mine was opened in Sudbury, Ontario, it was found to be richer in gold, silver, platinum, palladium, rhodium, iridium, ruthenium and selenium, and today it is the greatest nickel-producing area in the world.

An automobile battery always should be disconnected before making extensive adjustments in the electrical system.

North Warren Club Is Arranging Big Party

Members of the North Warren Civic Club are looking forward to their annual Ladies Night, to be held in the form of a "community party" in the community house from eight until twelve o'clock on Monday night.

The committee has arranged for a program that will include movies, round and square dancing, all kinds of cards—bridge, five hundred, canasta—cribbage, or favorites brought by the guests. Eats are also promised as an additional item that will round out an evening of fun.

"Come early and enjoy your neighbors" is the invitation and advice of the sponsors.

BROKENSTRAW CLUB

Youngsville, Nov. 30 — Brokenstraw Garden Club members are holding their Christmas party-meeting next Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Peterson. Roast turkey is promised for the dinner menu with an exchange of gifts and some special program features to follow. Roll call response will be the naming of Christmas carols.

MARTHA SOCIETY PLANNING TUREEN

Martha Society members of Emanuel Evangelical and Reformed church have planned a tureen supper for their regular meeting at 6:30 p. m. Monday at the church. In addition, members are reminded to bring their articles for a bazaar to be held in the church on December 7, starting at six o'clock.

RECEPTION FOR BENJAMIN HUCKABONES

A reception will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Huckabone, Starbrick, from seven until ten o'clock Saturday evening in celebration of their 25th wedding anniversary. Friends and relatives are cordially invited.

FAMILY FESTIVAL

Tidoute, Nov. 30 — Announcement is made that the annual Christmas family festival will be held in the Presbyterian church parlors next Tuesday evening and a large turnout is anticipated.

HOME STREET CLUB

The regular meeting of the Home Street Mothers Club will be held at 7:30 p. m. Monday, when special guests will be Carroll A. Fowler and 16 of his singers in a half-hour of music.

EPWORTH WSCS PROGRAM-MEETING

The regular meeting of Epworth Methodist WSCS was held in the church parlors with a good attendance. During the business session conducted by the president, Mrs. Oscar Granquist, the society voted to cooperate with other Methodist churches in mending and darning, clothing for the Ruth M. Smith Children's Home in Sheffield, with Mrs. Kathryn Baldensperger named chairman of the project.

An interesting devotional period was in charge of Mrs. Iva Belle Michael. A pageant, "For All His Benefits", was given under the direction of Kathryn Baldensperger, with the following members taking part: Mrs. Bertha Granquest, reader; Mrs. Ula Mahaffy, Mrs. Lillian Hetem, Mrs. Marion Stewart, Mrs. Mildred Baldensperger, Mrs. Camilla Thompson, Mrs. Iva Belle Michael, with Mrs. Elizabeth Kelly providing appropriate music. Mrs. Bessie Walters and Mrs. Oscar Granquist gave a very interesting discussion on rural health problems and the session closed with prayer by Rev. Kelly.

A social hour followed, with refreshments served by Mrs. Hetem and Mrs. Michael.

SHOWER HONORS NEWLYWED COUPLE

Lander, Nov. 30—Mr. and Mrs. Bert Van Ord, Mr. and Mrs. Gid Van Ord, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Van Ord entertained at the home of the last named couple Tuesday evening with a shower party which honored Mr. and Mrs. John Lindsey, Warren, who were recently married.

After a pleasant evening that included cards and refreshments, the couple received many nice gifts from the following: Mrs. Katherine Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Young and son, of Busti; Mr. and Mrs. Jerold Angove, Akely; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Clark, Mrs. Clifford Ryberg and daughter, Joan, and Evelyn Lindsey, Warren; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Van Ord, Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Van Ord and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Dalrymple and son, Mr. and Mrs. Gid Van Ord and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Be. Van Ord and daughter, and the Lewis Van Ord family.

Turkey With All Trimmings Is Fare for Co. 'I' at Atterbury

(Special to the Times-Mirror)
Camp Atterbury, Indiana — Thanksgiving Day, 1950, found the GIs at Camp Atterbury celebrating the event in the traditional style, and with all the trimmings. The sacred bird, the turkey, headed the bill of fare that was really a feast.

This was the menu for the Thanksgiving Day dinner: Green olives, celery sticks, sweet pickles, shrimp cocktail with sauce and lemon wedge, roast turkey with celery dressing, giblet gravy, cranberry sauce, candied sweet potatoes, buttered peas, individual Waldorf salad and lettuce, salad dressing, parkerhouse rolls, jam and butter, pumpkin pie with ice cream, coffee, oranges, bananas, grapes, hard candy, mixed nuts.

The chaplains reported a large attendance at church services throughout the area, thus showing that the men have not forgotten the true spirit of Thanksgiving Day.

The holiday also ushered in the coldest weather to date. The vanguard of the cold wave reached this area Thursday. Friday found the temperature hovering only a few degrees above zero while a fine, powdery snow whipped through the rolling Indiana countryside in which Camp Atterbury is located. All are agreed that winter is really here.

A recent promotion is that of John Sutter, of 10 N. South street, Warren, who was given the rate of private first class.

Several I Company men have been given transfers. Pvt. Michael E. Matve, of R. D. 1 Sugar Grove, has been transferred to Company L, 112th Infantry. Sergeant First Class Frederick J. Swanson, of R. D. 1, Warren, has been transferred to the Medical

CLASS IS CHANGED

Mrs. G. W. Buerkle, East street, announces that the regular session of her dancing school for this week will be held at 10:30 a. m. Saturday at the YWCA activities building, instead of the customary evening hour.

Solution to Unhappy Marriage Is Rarely Found in Divorce

EVERY now and then I get a letter from a woman having "husband trouble" who admits she doesn't want a divorce because she still loves her husband, or because of the children, or because she is afraid the won't be able to support herself. Yet the final question is always the same: "What else can I do but get a divorce?"

These women aren't thinking straight. Divorce isn't the only solution to most marriage problems, whether the trouble lies with an unfaithful husband, or one who drinks to excess, or one who can't hold a job for any length of time, or one who gambles his money away.

If, under such circumstances, the woman wants a divorce, or if she figures she would be better off divorced, that is her decision.

But when she admits she doesn't want a divorce and then asks "but what else can I do?", she is mixed up in her thinking.

DON'T BE FORCED INTO DIVORCE

If she doesn't want a divorce, nothing ought to force her into it; not the opinion of her family or friends, her own pride, nor the notion that no wife ought to put up with this or that.

If she doesn't want a divorce then she should close that avenue of escape in thinking about her problem and figure out what she can do about it within the bonds of matrimony.

There may be a lot she can do; or there may be very little. But even if the only answer seems to be to make the best of a bad bargain—there's her answer.

If she doesn't want a divorce, she shouldn't get it. Divorce is an answer to some problems. But only when the divorce is wanted.

If it isn't wanted, it's no solution and a woman ought to put the idea out of her mind and go to work finding some other solution.

Church of the Nazarene Congregation Honors New Pastor, Wife at Reception

The reception held in the North Warren community house to honor the Rev. John Z. Andree, new pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, was attended by more than 150 members and friends of the parish.

Out of town guests were the Rev. W. Gordon Graves, Bradford;

the Rev. and Mrs. R. R. Merriman, Corry; the Rev. and Mrs. John Poole, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Andree, Jamestown, N. Y.; the Rev. Viola Doverspike, Corydon.

A table beautifully decorated in autumn colors and centered with a cornucopia was placed in front of the platform, on which was a placard bearing the theme of the evening, "We Are Partakers of His Goodness".

A welcome was sung by boys and girls of the beginners' department, each holding a letter spelling out the theme for which a scripture promise was given.

Everyone joined in singing "I Am Thine, O Lord" and "I Will Sing the Wondrous Story", after which Rev. Doverspike led in prayer.

Rev. Merriman was called upon and extended greetings from the Erie Zone; a duet, "Jesus Is the Sweetest Name I Know", was sung by Mrs. Norman Jefferson and Barbara Sorenson, a welcome, Mrs. Preston Taylor, president of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society; duet, "Saviour, Like a Shepherd Lead Us"; Mrs. Ronald Rader and Doris King; welcome, Rev. Pool, speaking for the Jamestown Zone of the Albany District; solo, "There is Calm Upon the Deep", Mrs. Poole.

Rev. Graves was then presented as principal speaker of the evening, extending a welcome from the Warren Zone, congratulating the congregation on its choice of leader, and enumerating his attributes.

Preston Taylor, president of the board of trustees, made the presentation of a lovely gift and purse of money to Rev. and Mrs. Andree, with the pastor voicing their response.

Howard Andree, brother of the pastor, was called upon for the closing prayer.

Gladys Judd was chairman of program arrangements and Mrs.

Myrtle Wallin headed the committee which served refreshments.

PHC SUPPER-MEETING

Since the stormy weather has canceled the visit of two PHC officials for this week's meeting, the organization will have nomination of officers at its regular meeting at seven o'clock this evening. A tureen supper will be served at six o'clock and following the meeting there will be a social hour.

GUEST SPEAKER AT COUNCIL MEETING

Mrs. Harold V. Lindquist, wife of the Youngsville Evangelical United Brethren minister and secretary of children's work in the EUB Erie Conference, will be guest speaker for the meeting of the Warren Council of Church Women, to be held at Bethel church at 2:30 p. m. Friday. The First Presbyterian church is co-operating in this month's meeting.

OPEN HOUSE FOR LEONARD HANSENS

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hansen, 208 North South street, will entertain relatives and friends at open house at their home from two until eight o'clock Sunday in observance of their silver wedding anniversary.

HOSPITAL AUXILIARY

Members and friends are reminded the regular business and work meeting of Warren General Hospital Auxiliary will be held at 1:30 p. m. Friday in the nurses' home and a good turnout is hoped for.

Girls Getting Dates For Phalanx Affair

"Girls, here is your big chance to get a date with the boy you like best" is the Phalanx Fraternity's reminder for its "Twirl Dance", to be held next Saturday night, December 9.

The dance is scheduled from 8:30 to 11:30 in the Canteen building and the proceeds will be turned over to the building fund.

Deane Swanson, general chairman of the affair, will have his orchestra on hand to furnish the dance music, and a very entertaining floor show is being worked out by Gordon Odmark.

Admission for the benefit dance will be 75 cents a couple and no stages will be allowed. The party will include young people of senior high school age and upward.

WOMEN'S GUILD RESCHEDULES SERVICE

Postponed last Sunday evening because of the storm, the annual thankoffering service of the Women's Guild will be held at Emanuel Evangelical and Reformed church at 7:30 p. m. Sunday. Mrs. Earl Christensen will be the speaker.

Decorations For Sheffield Will Be Discussed Friday

Sheffield, Nov. 30.—Mrs. George Leadeur, Sheffield township librarian, reports the weekly story-hour period for second, third and fourth graders and scheduled for this afternoon at 3:30 p. m. has been postponed due to the severe weather conditions. It is believed the story-hour will be held next Thursday at the library.

Merchants, businessmen and representatives of the various clubs and organizations in Sheffield are asked to attend a meeting at 8 p. m. Friday night in Cederhof hall for the purpose of discussing Christmas decorations for Sheffield. All interested persons are asked to please be present tomorrow night for the meeting.

SHS Coach Ralph Santo lists the probable Sheffield line-up for the opening basketball game of Sheffield season which is scheduled for tonight on the local court with Mt. Jewett as the opponent. The junior varsity teams will meet at 7 p. m. and the main game will be played at 8 p. m. tonight.

Ed Eisenhauer will take the center position; Jerry Cederhof and Bill Callahan as forwards; Jim All and Larry Fitzgerald as guards. Joe Perowski will be the main assist in the positions of Callahan and Fitzgerald.

Others assisting on the main squad include Bill Irwin, Allan Baynes, Jim Hadman, Jim Slater and Paul Donick. Mickey Watts and Richard Bloss are the team managers. The tentative line-up for the junior varsity team puts Bob Callahan at center; Joe Piehuta and Jerry Carr, forwards; Bill Troutman and Dave Gustafson, guards. All are freshmen students but Piehuta who is a sophomore.

OBITUARIES

MRS. JOHN SAGLIMBENE
Mrs. Ralph Pasquino, 11 North Irvine street, received word yesterday of the sudden death of her step-mother, Mrs. John Saglimbene, of Erie. She had been a frequent visitor in Warren and had made many friends in the community.

Also surviving her are her husband and two sons, Dominick and Armand Sorge, of Erie, and several grandchildren.

Funeral services in her memory will be held from St. George's Chapel, Erie, with Requiem Mass celebrated at 10 a. m. Saturday at St. Paul's Roman Catholic church. Burial will follow in Calvary cemetery.

W. H. CHAMBERLAIN
William Henry Chamberlain, Warren RD 2, died at the family home at 3:15 a. m. today after an extended illness. Born in Steubenville on June 3, 1883, he had been a resident and well known farmer of this section for some years.

Besides his wife, Stella Bowen Chamberlain, he leaves four sons and one daughter: Leatus W. and Donald M. Chamberlain, at home; Ronald M. Chamberlain, Barnes; Alton E. Daugherty and Mrs. Vera Sorvelli, Warren; also nine grandchildren; two brothers, Arthur Chamberlain, Erie, and George Chamberlain, Cuba, N. Y.

Removal has been made to the Leo D. Gibson Funeral Home, where friends will be received at the usual hours after seven o'clock this evening. Visiting hours Friday will be from 10 a. m. until noon and from seven until nine in the evening. Services in his memory will be held at 1:30 p. m. Saturday at the funeral home, with Dr. H. A. Rhinard officiating. Interment will be made in Pine Grove cemetery at Russell at the convenience of the family.

MRS. ALFRED BEUGGER
The funeral of Mrs. Alfred Beugger, who died Friday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. L. E. Linder, Monroe street, was held Monday afternoon at two o'clock at the Evangelical and Reformed church in Ridgway, her former home. Rev. Harold Hess officiated and a hymn, "Lord Jesus Christ, Be With Us Now," was sung by Mrs. Margaret Glans and Mrs. Bernell Johnson, with Mrs. Sam Irwin, Sr., at the organ. Interment was made in Fairview cemetery, with the following serving as bearers: John Dallenbach, A. W. Abplanalp, Andrew and Simon Egger, H. I. Law and Harold Taennler.

Out of town relatives and friends attending the rites were Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Linder and family, Warren; Mr. and Mrs. Glen Howlett, South Dayton, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Loncoski and family, Washingtonville, Pa.; Mrs. Edith Blanchard, Renova; Kay Moore, DuBois; Mrs. William Streich, Clarendon, and James Dorn, Lima, O.

MRS. OSCAR OLSON
Anna Cecilia, widow of Oscar Olson and former resident of Warren, died Wednesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. James Osborn, in Oil City.

Born in Sweden on October 5, 1880, she came to Warren in 1893 and resided here until two years ago, when she went to the Osborn home. She was a member of St. Paul's Lutheran church, this city.

Besides her daughter, she leaves another daughter, Mrs. John Shaw, and a grandson, John C. Shaw, in Columbia, S. C.; also a sister-in-law.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES
As we get older, aches and pains, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes show down the kidneys. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritation due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions.

If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait. Try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

law, Mrs. Emma Morine, Warren. Her husband preceded her in death some years ago.

Removal is being made this afternoon to the Peterson Funeral Home, where friends will be received starting this evening and where services will be held at two o'clock Saturday afternoon. Interment will follow in Oakland cemetery.

AMANDA N. LUNDGREN
A prayer service was held at 11 a. m. Wednesday in the Henderson-Lincoln Chapel, Jamestown, for Mrs. Amanda N. Lundgren, 69 year old former Ludlow resident. Dr. Felix J. Hanson, pastor of Immanuel Lutheran church, officiated.

Further services were held at Moriah Lutheran church, Ludlow, with Rev. Hans Pearson officiating and the following serving as bearers for interment in the Gibbs Hill cemetery: Theodore Pearson, Walter Pearson, Emil Nelson, Clifford Nelson, Gust Nelson, and A. Pearson.

High Praise For Truck Association Observation Patrol

Philadelphia—"One of the most powerful weapons ever devised in the war against traffic accidents is the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association's 'Pennsylvania Plan' for highway observation patrol," said PMTA Safety Director O. D. Shipley, at the evening's meeting of the Pennsylvania State College Fleet Supervisors' extension training course here (at the Yellow Cab terminal).

"This program, which utilizes on a cooperative basis over 75 per cent of the PMTA's truck operators and insurance companies on the highways of Pennsylvania, is giving us a true and exact picture of truck operation in the state," he said.

"This is, however, only one part of the program being carried on by Pennsylvania truck operators, individually and through the association, for the prevention of traffic accidents.

"Through the use of PMTA's two Mobile Safe Driver Clinics 28,972 drivers have had their driving vision and reaction time tested so far in 1950. Many truck operators throughout the state have used these tests to check their drivers. In these cases corrective action is taken where the need is indicated.

"Through the cooperation of truck operators in every county of the state, PMTA's Highway Hazard Reporting Service has become of major importance in bringing to the attention of proper authorities for correction the danger spots in our highway system. During this coming winter and the following spring thaws, the importance of this activity will multiply to the benefit of both truck operators and private automobile drivers."

In concluding, Shipley reminded the fleet operators that "our accident prevention program is a growing one. It needs the participation of every truck operator in the state. It welcomes new ideas for traffic accident prevention."

looked dead and brown and bare—except for huddled groups of refugees, some wading the ice-patched waters.

Every main road in a 1,600-square-mile stretch between Pyongyang and the Chongchon river was alive with U. N. troops moving south.

Thousands trudged slowly and painfully in long columns down the twisting yellow roads. Thousands more rode in trucks and jeeps in this forced migration. Our plane dropped to 500 feet to observe them, but the tanks and bouncing artillery pieces stirred up such clouds of dust we had to rise higher to keep from running into the mountainsides they obscured.

BOROS TO MEET
The December meeting of the Tri-County Boroughs Association will be held next Tuesday at the Snethport Country Club, with dinner for members and wives to be served at seven o'clock. All who intend to go to the meeting should have reservations made with Borough Secretary Marjorie Dougherty no later than Monday.

KIDS WARNED
City police had occasion several times yesterday to warn youngsters about sliding on the streets, and the danger from traffic with streets in their present condition. A group of kids on Madison avenue, who have been hitching rides on cars, were also told to stop the practice before someone is seriously injured.

OIL CITY TAX RATE
For the fourth consecutive year, Oil City's tax rate will remain at 17 mills on each dollar of assessed property valuation and a 55 per cent tax. The last time the rates were increased was in 1948, when taxes were raised to the present rate from 15 mills and 51 per cent tax. Fifteen mills of the 17-mill tax rate will be allocated to the general fund and two mills to the city's sinking fund for retirement of bonds and payment of interest on the city's public debt.

WORK ON BUILDING
Seven members of the Phalanx Fraternity, Frank Carr, John Kylander, Deane Swanson, Francis Masterson, Bud Andersen, Jack Updegraff and Allen Anderson, spent several hours last evening working on the Canteen building. Working under the supervision of James Hengst, the group painted doors, worked on partitions for the rest rooms, and cleaned up the floor. Tonight the boys are planning to help the Jaycees with their Christmas projects in the rear of Kinneer's store, Liberty street.

BRIDGE CONFERENCE
Borough Manager L. M. McConnell stated this morning that he expects to confer with the contractor in charge of repairs to the Third avenue bridge tomorrow. Work has been held up on the bridge to the inconvenience of all who customarily use the structure. Mr. McConnell said that borough officials are prepared to insist upon completion of the work, and that tarpaulins should be spread and local welders used in order to get the new floor down. It will be welcome news if an agreement is arrived at to finish the job.

ERIE R. R. DIVIDEND
Directors of Erie Railroad Co. today declared a $1.25 dividend on common stock, payable out of surplus December 22 to holders of record December 8. Previous payment was 50 cents on June 19. This will bring total payments this year to $1.75. Erie has been paying a total of $1 a year since 1942 with the exception of 1948 when the total was $1.50. President Paul W. Johnston told directors common stock earnings this year would probably be around $4.50 a share, before provision for capital and sinking funds. Last year the railroad reported earnings of $5,954,235, equal to $1.60 a share.

New Policy Set On Enlistments Of Married Men

Married men with dependents may now enlist in the Air Force, according to a special announcement made today by Cpl. Beach of the Army and Air Service Recruiting Station in the Warren post office. The recruiter said that both veterans and men without prior service, who have a maximum of two dependents, may now apply for Air Force enlistment, regardless of grade.

Those enlisted, in addition to drawing regular pay and allowances, will be eligible to apply for government dependency allotments.

Cpl. Beach said the new change in policy will undoubtedly result in an influx of Air Force enlistments from the Warren area.

Previously, veterans with dependents were eligible to apply providing they could obtain certain grades, and men without prior service, with dependents were ineligible.

When applying for enlistment in the Air Force, veterans will be required to present their discharge papers, while original enlistees must present their birth certificates.

Further information concerning the basic pay scale and the amount of the allotments, may be obtained at the recruiting office, which is open daily from 8:30 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Six To Ten Enemy Divisions Confront Tenth Corps in Northwest (From Page One)

was the First Regiment, on the south.

Red roadblocks were wedged between the Leatherneck regiments and clamped on their 51-mile overland supply route to Hamhung on the east coast.

On the east side the reservoir, a spokesman said, elements of two U. S. Seventh Division regiments were under "moderate attack," but supplies were reaching them.

Marine and carrier-based U. S. Navy fighters gave the Doughboys and Leathernecks close support. One flight of Marine Corsairs strafed Chinese dug in only 30 yards from the GIS.

Contrasting with this sharp fighting was the puzzling quiet in the northwest.

The Chinese may have paused because of over-extended supply lines from Red Manchuria, or to regroup their attacking hordes. Or perhaps some undercover diplomatic decision prompted the halt.

Heavily-hit, the 110,000-man eighth army was trying to establish a new line south of Chongchon and north of the former Red Capital of Pyongyang.

When the Allies kicked off on the "end the war" offensive last Friday they were arrayed along an 80-mile front inland from the Yellow sea.

Friends will be glad to learn that Carolyn Snow, of 604 Fourth avenue, has been discharged from Warren General Hospital where she has been undergoing medical treatment.

Penn'a Farm Roundup

Harrisburg.—(AP)—Pennsylvania's 400 Bushel Potato Club has the distinction of being the oldest agricultural production club in the nation.

The club entered its 35th year with the 1950 potato crop.

To qualify for membership in the club, a potato grower must produce a potato crop with at least one acre, showing a yield of not less than 400 bushels of potatoes.

The Pennsylvania Cooperative Potato Growers Association, sponsor of the club, credits it is one of the biggest factors in making the Keystone potato grower conscious of improved methods of growing potatoes.

Since the club's inception, a total of 1261 farmers have made the membership grade.

Pennsylvania fair associations are lagging in submitting annual reports to the State Agriculture Department for determination of state-aid grants.

Deadline for submission of such reports is Dec. 15.

The department said that only about a dozen of the 107 county and community fair associations have filed premium reports so far. It added that the longer the fair reports are delayed, the longer all fair funds will have to wait for their state funds to aid in payment of premiums on agricultural exhibits.

Lancaster county farmers have a reputation for helping distressed neighbors. Three recent examples: Mrs. Edwin H. Myers and a son, Edward, of Mt. Joy, Route 1, were left in difficult circumstances at harvest time when the elder Myers and another son were killed in an auto accident. Friends came to the rescue, harvested 12 acres of tobacco, 14 acres of corn and seeded 27 acres of wheat, as well as helped with the farm chores.

Walter Hershey, of Lancaster, Route 6, lost his barn in a farm fire, leaving him no winter storage space. Friends and neighbors from far and near converged on the Hershey farm last Tuesday and put up a new barn.

Elmer Hersh, of Strasburg, Route 1, was ill and unable to harvest his corn crop. Friends learned of his plight and came to his rescue, husking the entire crop in one day.

Research workers at Penn State have developed a new mechanical aid to make work easier on poultry farms. The device feeds, waters, gives the birds a roosting perch, and then cleans the droppings, all mechanically. Tests are underway on the mechanism at the Penn State poultry plant.

Wreck Service Truck Towed In By Wrecker

A parallel of the old question of who takes care of a doctor when he's sick occurred in Warren today.

A familiar sight around town ever since the big snow is a wreck service truck hauling a car to a garage for repairs and adjustments.

Today, Halle's Garage wrecker, which has been on the go day and night for the past week, broke down near Scandia, and had to be towed into the garage by another truck.

Plague is a rat-borne disease and can be traced through history as far back as 1320 B. C., being first known in Pelusium, in lower Egypt.

A meteorite that fell in Siberia in 1908 produced an air wave that was recorded on a sensitive barometer in England.

THE MARKETS

New York, Nov. 30—(P)—Buying interest in rail and chemical stocks put the market on a forward slant today. Gains ranged to around $1 a share. The market was not entirely one-sided though, for a light sprinkling of shares backed down a bit and many showed no change at all. Today's rally started in slow fashion yesterday afternoon after the market had taken a bad beating Tuesday and again Wednesday morning. News from Korea was still gloomy. Comments on the military situation by government officials here and abroad were interpreted to some quarters to contain germs of optimism and apparently traders were making it best of these.

Chinese Aggression Denounced By Executive

(From Page One)

A reporter noted that some of the criticism has claimed that MacArthur exceeded his authority in going beyond the 38th Parallel in Korea and in other ways. He did nothing of the kind, Mr. Truman came back. He said consideration of the use of every weapon is being given constantly and that the decision of whether to drop atomic bombs was for the commander in the field.

In replying to other questions, the president said the matter of whether the United Nations troops should bomb across the Manchurian border is one for the United Nations to decide.

A reporter asked when this country should expect all-out mobilization of the home front—tightened controls, possibly price and wage controls.

The president also made clear that the policy against accepting the offer of Nationalist Chinese troops has not changed.

The offer was not accepted, he said, in the hope that such a course would prevent involvement of the world in a Third World War. That policy, he said, continues.

He said it still is the policy to keep Formosa neutralized.

Divided Command Responsible For Sharp Criticism

With U. S. Eighth Army, Korea, Nov. 30—(P)—Collapse of the United Nations offensive has the divided command in General MacArthur's military forces in Korea.

Many military men are questioning the setup in which the U. S. Tenth Corps is operating in northeast Korea entirely independently of the Eighth Army on the northwest front.

The Tenth Corps, commanded by Maj. Gen. Edward M. Almond, frequently is referred to in this theater as a "special police force."

In effect, MacArthur has two forces fighting in Korea—one labeled as an Army and the other as a Corps. The coordination of these forces is not handled in the field but from GHQ in Tokyo.

This sharp separation of command responsibilities in the field has been one of the puzzles of the Korean war. No one yet has given an official explanation of why Tenth Corps is divorced from Eighth Army.

Associated Press Correspondent Sam Swinton, who has covered Tenth Corps since Almond's men went ashore in the northeast, pointed out today there was a physical reason for the separation of commands. He said the north-central Korean mountain pass splits North Korea in half so Eighth Army and Tenth Corps could not operate as a single unit. Swinton said many officers at Tenth Corps privately believe there should be closer liaison between Eighth Army and Tenth Corps but a popular opinion there is that Tenth Corps—actually operating as an Army and not as a corps—should be given Army status and an overall Army group command set up at a central point in Korea.

Large Increase In Casualties Noted

who died were included both in the total deaths and the total missing. Army casualties total 28,627, of which 4,442 were deaths and 3,751 were persons currently missing.

Marine casualties totaled 3,829, including 725 deaths, 3,073 non-fatally wounded, and 31 missing. Navy casualties numbered 323, including 50 deaths.

Of a total of 244 air force casualties, 90 were deaths.

Steelworkers Take 16-Cent Wage Boost

Pittsburgh, Nov. 30—(P)—The CIO United Steelworkers today accepted an average 16-cent an hour wage increase for its 165,000 employees of United States steel corporation.

At the same time, U. S. Steel announced price increases will increase about 5 1/2 per cent due to higher labor costs.

This wage increase, effective tomorrow, is expected to set a pattern for the entire steel industry employing about a million USW members.

P. U. C. Salary Hike Upheld In Decision

Harrisburg, Nov. 30—(P)—The State Justice Department ruled today that Chairman John Higgins, Jr., of the Public Utility Commission was granted a salary increase of $4,500 to $15,000 annually and four other commissioners received raises of $4,000 each to $14,000 annually effective March 31, 1949.

The department held the members of the commission were entitled to benefit from an act of the 1949 legislature increasing to $14,000 annually effective March

American Doughboys Have Sense Of Humor

Northwest Front, Korea, Nov. 30—(P)—American Doughboys trudging south from the Chongchon river had lost their hope of "home by Christmas."

But they still had their sense of humor—and a new slogan.

Just as they chanted "Golden Gate By '48" from Guadalcanal to Leyte in World War II, the soldiers today were cheering each other with: "We'll trim the tree in '53."

salaries of the governor and other top state officials.

The state constitution provides that no changes may be made in the salary of an official during his term of office. The opinion, however, ruled that members of the Public Utility Commission were exempt from the constitutional provisions.

The opinion was written at the request of Auditor General Weldon B. Heyburn, who inquired whether the Public Utility Commissioners are entitled to the 1949 salary increase.

Six Safety Rules For Slippery Roads Listed by Transeau

Profess' al drivers do not make light of a light snowfall. T. Elmer Transeau, Director of the Bureau of Highway Safety, emphasized today.

"The pros"—those men who operate trucks and cars over short or long distances in all kinds of weather—appreciate the treachery of snow or ice in any amount," he warned.

"Such drivers outwit the elements using their brains more than their brakes. When driving on snow or ice, they take very seriously the recommendations of the National Safety Council's Committee on Winter Driving Hazards". The recommendations are:

1. Get the "feel" of the road.
 2. Adjust speed to road and weather conditions.
 3. Keep the windshield and windows clear.
 4. Use tire chains for snow and ice conditions.
 5. "Pump" the brakes to stop.
- "The two main threats to winter-time road safety are reduced visibility and inadequate traction," Transeau declared. "Mix either of these factors with careless driving practices and you have the makings of a staid-wreck with its consequent tie-up of traffic."

In Buckwheat Cakes

Harrisburg—Fewer buckwheat cake are in sight for this winter. Pennsylvania for many years the No. 1 buckwheat producing state in the nation, this year has the smallest crop known since the keeping of records started in 1866, according to Federal - State surveys announced by the State Department of Agriculture. Following the usual damage by deer, Pennsylvania buckwheat growers have harvested a crop of only 1,702,000 bushels this year compared with the all-time record high of 6,967,000 bushels harvested in 1912. The 1950 estimate compares with 1,886,000 bushels in 1949 and the 1939-48 average of 2,262,000 bushels. The previous low record production was 1,754,000 bushels in 1930 when the yield was only 10.5 bushels per acre.

Weekly Report On
Snow Conditions In State Resort Areas

Winter sports conditions in Pennsylvania this season will be sent by teletype to United States weather bureau stations in the northeastern part of the country, it has been announced by Theodore Roosevelt, III, secretary of commerce.

Secretary Roosevelt said the service had been devised by the vacation and recreation division of the Department and was set up with the aid of Weather Bureau officials in Harrisburg and the winter sports interests of the state.

Reports of snow conditions in the winter sports areas will be telephoned each Thursday and Friday morning between 8 and 9 o'clock by resort operators to the United States Weather Bureau in Harrisburg. The bureau will consolidate these reports, add a weather forecast and send the special report out over Weather Bureau teletype at 9:15 o'clock each Thursday and Friday morning.

Stations that will receive this report are: Akron, Canton, Dayton, Cincinnati, Columbus, Youngstown and Cleveland, Ohio; Albany, Buffalo, Binghamton, Oswego, Rochester, New York City and Syracuse, in New York State; Atlantic City, New Jersey; Covington and Louisville, Kentucky; Baltimore, Md.; Washington, D. C.; Elkins, West Virginia; Providence, R. I.; Bridgeport and Hartford, Conn.; Boston, Mass., and some other New England stations. In Pennsylvania the report will be received by weather bureau stations in Allentown, Erie, Pittsburgh and Williamsport. The reports also will be available in the Departments of Forests and Waters and the Department of Commerce, Harrisburg, and the Department of

Dependable MEATS SAVE YOU MONEY

LOBLAWS Outstanding BACON SALE

Give bacon a break! How long is it since you have tried sliced bacon? At today's low prices you can enjoy all the bacon you can eat. It's the best buy—thinly sliced, lean, rindless, perfectly ribboned streaks of lean and fat, sugar cured, smoked over hardwood fires—giving it a tangy fragrance that makes everyone come back for more. For best results—cook sliced bacon slowly. Turn frequently, pour off surplus melted fat while cooking. Drain slices on absorbent paper. Serve on preheated platter.

Only the choice center slices are selected and packed in this new style package for Loblaws. The ends are cut off and sold at a lower price.

Loblaws Bacon comes from only the choice center of a side of bacon.

New War In Korea Indicates That Belt Tightening Process May Be Near At Hand

By SAM DAWSON
New York—(AP)—The "entirely new war" in Korea gives businessmen and their customers the warning today that the time for belt-tightening may be near at hand.

Just around the corner, apparently, are new and higher taxes, stricter controls, increasing manpower shortage, another twist in the wage-price spiral, and a speed-up in inflation in general.

Whether the "new war" is contained in Korea, or whether it spreads across Asia, the timetable of United States rearmament will be advanced. Controls on raw materials, on production, on consumption, even on wages and prices—already on the drafting boards—may be expected to come forth from Washington much sooner now than seemed likely before the Chinese launched their attack on the United Nations' armies.

Commodity and security markets reflected that feeling Tuesday. Future prices of commodities soared as traders figured that the time for shortages was brought nearer. Stock prices dropped as traders figured that higher taxes and much stricter controls might soon be cramping the business world, hampering production and slashing profits.

Treasury Secretary Snyder says the federal debt will start up again by the middle of next year—earlier, if rearmament spending speeds up. So far this fall the treasury has been getting along on its greater tax take, but Snyder sees "a need for new money" coming now.

The Chinese are strengthening the hands of those who demand still higher taxes on everyone in America before the end of the year. Opponents of the excess profits tax—who had taken heart recently in the belief the plan would be sidetracked by Congress—are worried today. The "entirely new war" will raise a new public clamor for "taking the profits out of war," EPT opponents fear.

The labor shortage, already acute in some places, will probably grow quickly. 1. The armed forces seem certain to push for more men; 2. Fires will soon be built under defense production, which until now has been proceeding at a rather leisurely pace.

The wage-price spiral seems due for another upward swing. The basic steel industry is reported ready to grant a substantial pay boost. A rise in the price of steel will follow—just how much is still in doubt.

Steelmen first suggested a $10-a-ton increase, but opposition by Washington to such a spur to inflation has brought reports that the steel companies will absorb some of the increased costs of higher wages, and raise prices by only $6 a ton.

This increase on such a basic commodity as steel probably will fan out through the various manufacturing industries until in time it reaches the retail stores with higher price tags on an almost endless list of appliances and goods.

Controls on civilian use of copper are expected any day. Just before the Chinese moved into Korea in force, the National Production Authority was reported ready to cut back civilian use of copper by 15 to 20 per cent of what was consumed in the first half of this year.

Since Korea, the copper fabricators have been using copper at a much greater rate than that—so that the NPA directive would cut back civilian use, measured by present levels, much more than 15 to 20 per cent.

775 Rural Highway Deaths Are Listed

Fatalities on Pennsylvania rural highways, as compared with 1949, showed an increase of two for the first 10 months of 1950 according to a report from State Police Headquarters in Harrisburg. There were 775 fatalities on rural highways from January through October, 1950, while 753 persons were killed during those months in 1949.

"According to data gathered by the National Safety Council," said Colonel C. M. Wilhelm, State Police Commissioner, "the trend in a large number of states has been upward. It is hoped that with the cooperation and earnest efforts of all concerned, Pennsylvania's record will show a decrease throughout the remainder of the year."

In October, 1950, there were 97 deaths on rural roads, as compared with 95 in the same month last year.

RECORD PHONE CALLS
All-time local telephone call records were broken the last weekend in the Franklin exchange of the Pennsylvania Telephone Corp. A new record was set on Friday when 42,294 calls were handled, but this mark was short-lived because, on Saturday, the number was 46,168 and then "tapered off" to 44,974 on Sunday. Records cannot be kept in exchanges having the dial system. Franklin still has the manual system.

usual Parade Of unters In Garland istrict Is Missing

Garland, Nov. 30—The usual parade of hunters was conspicuously absent over the week-end due to the heavy snowfall which blocked country roads leading to lodges or the vicinity, and all residents have been busy shoveling out driveways and stalls.

The party planned at the community center to honor November 1st was cancelled because of storm and there was no teaching service in the Presbyterian church Sunday because the pastor was unable to get over the hill from Tidoute.

The Lanning Grocery has been closed because the owners, Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Lanning, were unable to get here from their home in Tidoute.

Township schools were closed Friday and Tuesday, giving teachers and pupils an unexpected holiday.

Raymond Trip has been busy with his tractor, starting stalled and cleaning out driveways.

Sympathy is extended the family of Carl Peterson of Jameson who died recently following short illness at that place. Carl is a former Garland resident, is a family occupying the farm now owned by Mary Zolko and family. His wife, the former Jennie Ornell, also formerly of this place, survives with a son. Residing in Garland is a brother, Walter, and a sister, Lillie Dahlstrom; Ernest and Florence in Youngsville; his parents and brother, Harold, in Pittsburgh. Funeral services in his memory were held Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kane spent Thanksgiving with relatives in Erie.

Mrs. H. G. Irwin, Sr., and Anne Marks left by plane Friday for the former's home in Florida.

Mrs. Archie Trester is on the list.

Ted Smith, who is attending Allegheny College, spent the Thanksgiving holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Smith. Out of town guests at the Smith home Thanksgiving Day were Pearl Thomas, Sugar Grove; Wave Carlson, Youngsville.

The Heals are regretting the death of a friendly dog that has been a member of their family for years.

Helen Murphy, who is attending Edinboro Teachers College, spent the Thanksgiving holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Murphy.

Theodore Leofsky, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Leifsky, is home on a Thanksgiving furlough.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wethe, of Son, James, left for their home on Virginia Saturday morning following the Thanksgiving holiday with the latter's mother, Mrs. Lynn Haffee. Their son, Whitney, who is attending Wooster College, came to spend the holiday with the family.

The youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Peterson is in the Warren hospital under observation. His mother is with the lad.

Birds wear fancy head ornaments for recognition between closely related species and, like humans, for courtship displays.

MENU SUGGESTIONS

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

THAT snowy white cauliflower in the market belongs in your special menu. So do the tender Brussels sprouts. Either goes perfectly with roast turkey or loin of pork.

To Cook Brussels Sprouts: Remove any loose or discolored leaves. Cut off a bit of the stem end. Wash thoroughly in cold water. Cook in one inch of boiling salted water in a tightly covered saucepan, only until tender, about 8 to 10 minutes. Season with pepper and a generous amount of melted butter or fortified margarine. One pound yields four servings.

To Cook Cauliflower: Wash well. Remove the green stalks. Break into flowerets. Cook in one inch of boiling salted water in a tightly covered saucepan for 8 to 15 minutes, only until tender when tested with a fork. A large-sized head of cauliflower (about 3 pounds) will yield 4 to 6 servings. (Note: These two vegetables may be cooked together in a pressure saucepan by wrapping each separately in aluminum foil. Cook for 1 1/2 minutes at 15 pounds pressure.)

To Bake Acorn Squash: Wash the squash and cut in half lengthwise. Remove the seeds. Season with salt and pepper and bake, cut side down, on a greased pan in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) for 30 to 40 minutes until tender and lightly browned on cut edges. Looking for a different turkey stuffing?

Celery Stuffing
Yield: stuffing for neck region and body cavity of a 16 to 18-pound ready-to-cook turkey.

One cup fat, 1 cup minced onion, 1 quart diced celery, 4 quarts bread cubes, firmly packed (2 to 4-day-old bread), 1 tablespoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 2 teaspoons poultry seasoning, 1 1/2 to 2 cups broth, milk or water.

Cook onion and celery in fat over low heat, stirring occasionally, until onion is soft, but not browned. Meanwhile, blend seasonings with bread cubes. Add onion, celery and fat. Blend. Pour the broth gradually over surface stirring lightly. Add more seasoning as desired.

SUNDAY'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Orange juice, griddle cakes, butter or fortified margarine, fried link pork sausages, syrup, coffee, milk.

DINNER: Roast loin of pork, gravy, chilled apple-sauce with a flick of horseradish, baked sweet potatoes, buttered Brussels sprouts, enriched rolls, butter or fortified margarine, raw carrot sticks and celery omelet, lemon meringue pie, coffee, milk.

SUPPER: Tomato-cheese rabbit, Waldorf salad (apples, celery and nuts), chocolate cake, tea, milk.

Retail Food Prices Show Very Little Change This Week AP Survey Reveals

By The Associated Press
Retail food prices showed very little change this week.
Eggs turned lower after rising as much as 10 cents a dozen last week, and were marked down two to six cents in many stores. Some beef cuts were boosted a few cents a pound.
Even in produce departments, changes were mostly minor. Cabbage, potatoes and tomatoes were a little higher in most places. Brussels sprouts, carrots, cucumbers, iceberg lettuce, peppers and sweet potatoes a trifle lower.
The week-end storms which disrupted transportation and closed stores in several states had only slight effect on food supplies or prices, agriculture department market analysts in New York reported.
"Trading in perishable foods slowed almost to a stop in many marketing centers as housewives apparently stayed home and fed their families from stocks on their shelves and in home freezers," one said.
A spokesman for the federal-state frost warning service in Florida—important source of the nation's citrus and winter vegetable supplies—said considerable damage was reported to tomatoes and some damage to pole beans and eggplant on the lower west coast. But otherwise, high winds, dry air and smudginess kept freezing temperatures from doing widespread harm, he said. Damage to citrus "probably was very light, generally confined to tangerines."
In New York City, health department inspectors by mid-week had embargoed more than 7,000-000 pounds of coffee, cocoa beans, raw sugar, coconut flour, dried peas and other foods until laboratory tests could determine whether they had been contaminated by

EXTENDED FORECAST
Extended forecast for the period Wednesday, Nov. 29 through Sunday, Dec. 3:

Christmas Seal Sale Is Commended By Governor Duff

Governor James H. Duff, in opening the 1950 Christmas Seal Sale in Pennsylvania, praised the fight to control tuberculosis and said "citizens generally can aid this humanitarian work through their support of the Christmas Seal Sale."
The Governor said "Pennsylvania homes and communities still bear a constant burden through the great financial loss and suffering caused by tuberculosis—a preventable disease."
"The Keystone State shares the largest known cobalt deposits in the United States are in Idaho."

the nation while in conservatively estimated at $350,000,000 yearly.
"The progress made in fighting tuberculosis has made many brighter and happier homes in our Commonwealth. One important factor in this life saving work has been the extensive chest X-ray surveys to find unknown cases, which have been conducted by the State Bureau of Tuberculosis Control and the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis and Health Society and its affiliated organizations.
"This case finding effort will be extended as rapidly as possible," the Governor added.
The Governor said the voluntary fight against TB "is made possible by the sale of Christmas Seals and Christmas Seal Health Bonds," as he endorsed the program.

Polio Situation Depletes Epidemic Funds Report Shows

Philadelphia—The polio situation is so serious that unless people everywhere become aware of it, disaster may threaten thousands of patients, next year. Mrs. J. Stewart Williams, state advisor on Women's Activities of The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, declared here.

Returning from a national conference of women leaders of the March of Dimes organization in New York City, Mrs. Williams, whose home is in Kingston, reported that she had learned the full story of the impact of rising polio incidence on the economy of the only voluntary organization that offers assistance for individual patient care on a national scale.

"Three consecutive years of unprecedented polio epidemics in all parts of the nation have wiped out epidemic funds," Mrs. Williams reported. "We shall have to collect $50,000,000 in the March of Dimes next January to be able to continue care for thousands of patients whose uphill struggle for rehabilitation must go on in 1951, plus whatever new numbers of patients the new year brings, and to continue scientific and professional education."

While progress in research is encouraging, there is no optimism with regard to "light" incidence of polio in the immediate future, Mrs. Williams said. Reports from Basil O'Connor, President of the National Foundation, Dr. Hart E. Van Riper, its medical director, and four eminent scientists who spoke at the conference, made it very clear that the people of all states must prepare now for annual incidence of at least 25,000 cases unless a polio preventative is found, she stated.

"The people of Pennsylvania must become intensely aware of the seriousness of the situation," she continued. "All work that has been done, both in hospitals and scientific laboratories, stands in danger of being curtailed unless we provide enough money to cope with a much bigger problem in the years ahead."

"The goal of $50,000,000 set by Mr. O'Connor means increased contributions in our state, as in others. It also means earlier contributions, for unless sizeable advance gifts are received before the end of this year, current hospital bills in many parts of the country cannot be paid. The National Foundation has spent $20,000,000 for patient care this year, and will owe about $5,000,000, more at the year's end."

HARRY HELD UP ONCE TOO OFTEN

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service: Holdup Harry just can't stand idly by. In my last article I gave an example of his making a point by holding up to get a discard pile. Instead of mending and trying for a quick out with get up hand. In the very next he played Harry lost his life by trying a similar play. The score was 3500 to 2500 with Harry's side in front. He proceeded to pick up a really remarkable hand. It consisted of two jokers, four five sevens, a pair of aces and an old king. His first was a queen.

The correct play with that hold is easy. You throw either the 7 or the queen and await developments. In a six or seven is down to you; you take the discard pile otherwise you expect draw a six, seven or wild card go out concealed.

Holdup Harry had other ideas. He decided to trap his opponents discarded one of his five sevens. His next draw was a six and threw that to trap some more. His next two discards were two sevens and then the roof fell on him. The player in back of him had acquired a pair of sevens and the necessary ninety count and took the discard pile.

He held 1 three sevens only and enough other melds for the ninety so that Harry was stuck permanently with his two remaining sevens. Of course Harry could meld them, but in that case he would be wasting a wild card since he could not acquire enough sevens for a base for a canasta.

The upshot of the whole hand was that the opponents wound up by scoring over 3000 points on the hand and won the game.

Harry complained about his bad luck, but Harry's partner really complicated. The partner was entirely correct. Of course Harry's play might have worked. He might have succeeded in getting the discard pile and made a nice profit on the hand.

However, he really had little or no chance to make a big score. His hand was so concentrated in sixes and sevens that the opponents would have little or no trouble getting together somewhere else and going out before Harry could do any real good with the discard pile. Hence, Harry could not expect to win anything worth while if he got the pile.

Finally the results speak for themselves. If Harry had played to go out concealed he would have done so at his second turn to play and would have made a nice profit; as it was he lost his shirt.

This fresh Chinese aggression in Korea could lead to a major war involving China, but it isn't necessarily the forerunner of another world conflict.

Undoubtedly China is acting with the blessings and advice of Moscow. However, Russia has been keeping carefully in the background ever since the Korean upheaval began. Russian-built warplanes and other military equipment have been appearing on the battlefields, but the Muscovites themselves have been standing aside.

The indications have been that Russia desired to avoid another global upheaval at this juncture. And there is no sign that the latest development means any change in her attitude.

It could well be that Moscow would be happy to see the western powers, and especially the United States, become involved in a war with China while Russia sat on the sidelines.

Such a conflict would place a terrific strain on American economy and military strength and thus make the U. S. A. more vulnerable if and when the World War came. So far as China is concerned, her millions of fighting men are expendable.

Right here we shall do well to note that when General MacArthur made his grave announcement that "we face an entirely new war" because of the Chinese invasion of Korea, "we" didn't refer exclusively to the United States. The General was talking about United Nations members other than those of the Communist bloc.

The Korean intervention is a United Nations affair—and let's not forget that item. America is one of this partnership. True, because of her greater resources she is carrying the major load. But this war isn't exclusively her affair.

If this development means the raising of new forces to meet the Red onslaught, they still should be supplied by the United Nations on the basis of "one for all and all for one." The United States shouldn't be expected to carry the sack alone. We advocate bigger and better token forces.

City Basketball League Tilts Slated Tonight At The YMCA

Two games are slated tonight in the YMCA City Basketball League between Smun and Lawton Atlantic and New Process at 7 o'clock, and the Youngsville Merchants and Hooktown Ramblers at 8 o'clock.

In the opening of the season Monday the Ramblers edged New Process 44 to 38. The Youngsville five is a new member of the league this year and will be backing a tough opponent in the Ramblers.

The Hooktowners possess two big scorers in Tom Cannon and Jim Eckman.

New Process, defeated in the first round Monday night, also will enter tonight's game as the underdog. The Atlantic five is an older and more experienced squad, with Bill Wendert and Paul Smith as the pace setters. However, Don Baldensperger counted 14 points for the Process Monday night.

The public is cordially invited, and a nominal admission charge is made to defray expenses.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

By The Associated Press

BASEBALL

St. Louis—Shortstop Marty Marion was named player-manager of the St. Louis Cardinals and signed a one-year contract. Financial terms were not disclosed.

RACING

Bowie, Md.—Bob Considine
($540) won the Bowie breeders stakes. Jockey Joe Guimone increased his lead over Willie Shoemaker for national riding honors
by winning two races, giving him
352 for the season and a lead over Shoemaker, who was blanked at Hollywood Park.

GENERAL

Chicago—Former Heavyweight
Champion Joe Louis, 216, won a unanimous 10-round decision over Cesar Brion, 196, of Argentina.

Baltimore—The Baltimore Colts dropped Frank Filchuck from their National Football League roster.

Baltimore—The Baltimore Bullets of the National Basketball Association bought seven-foot Don Otten from the Washington Capitols. The Capitols got a replacement for Otten at center by buying Ed Mikas from the Rochester Royals.

Francis Scott Key, author of U. S. national anthem, is buried in the village cemetery at Frederick, Maryland.

ALL-PENNSYLVANIA 1950—Shown here is the Associated Press' 1950 All-Pennsylvania College Football team selected after a poll of coaches and sports writers.

Brown Bomber Is Unimpressive In Victory Over Brion

Chicago, Nov. 30—(AP)—Joe

Louis still is wearing boxing gloves but whether he'll ever use them again in a title bout was as big a question today as ever.

A slim Chicago Stadium crowd of 8,866 which saw former heavyweight Champion Louis score a methodical 10-round "comeback" win over Cesar Brion last night, could agree with Joe's admission that "my timing was off."

Louis, as a matter of fact, isn't even talking about a return match with title-holder Ezzard Charles, who gave him a 15-round trumphing at New York last Sept. 27.

"I want two or three more fights, and I want them right away," Louis said after his unanimous, but plodding decision over Brion, 13 years younger than the no-longer dreaded Brown Bomber.

"I want to be in top-top condition before I even think about Charles."

The International Boxing Club at the gate because last night's bout was televised, was to confer today over Joe's next foe.

Joe, 36, and weighing 216 pounds, was a shadow of his former stalking, slashing self in the tenth round. He had Brion in trouble with a furious barrage of lefts and rights. The South American weighed 196.

Referee Frank Gilmer voted 56 to 44 for the former champion while the judges made it 55 to 45 for Louis. Brion was awarded the fourth, sixth and eighth rounds.

From the gross gate of $47,420
Joe took a slice of approximately $14,000, including a flat $1,000 fee from the radio and television swag.

Martin Becomes Manager Of Cards

St. Louis, Nov. 30—(AP)—"He asked me did I want the job, and I said, 'yes, sir, I want the job.'"

And that's how, at 9 o'clock yesterday morning, Martin Marion, "Mr. Shortstop" to the St.
Louis Cardinals for 11 years, became their manager.

The announcement to the press came at 5:30 p. m. (EST).

President Fred Saigh said Marion had been the leading contender all along. Marion succeeds Eddie Dyer who resigned this fall.

The tall, slim South Carolinian smiled and said he thought being manager of the Cardinals was the greatest honor in baseball.

The press conference broke into a hot-stove league session. Everybody knew Marty so nobody had to get "background."

"Mr. Shortstop-Manager" said
Stan Musial would be played only in the outfield next year. And that his best bet for second base looked like Solly Hemus at the moment.

It was a one-year contract Marion signed. The terms were not disclosed but one sports writer estimated Marty would get $35,000—compared to his reported $25,000 as a player last season.

102,000 Will See Annual Army-Navy Contest In Philly

Philadelphia, Nov. 30—(AP)—

This city of brotherly love readied itself today for the biggest invasion of the year—and two battles.

Footballwise, the main skirmish is the annual Army-Navy game set for Saturday in the huge 102-000-seat Municipal Stadium.

The other battle, still on an
"if" and "maybe" basis, appears to be with old man weather and his bag of tricks. Today the long-range forecast for Saturday is not pleasant—mixed rain and snow, and cold.

The possibility of bad weather apparently worries Army more than Navy since unfavorable conditions affect generally are advantageous to the underdog. Of course, in an Army-Navy game form and favorite often take a beating.

West Point officials have telephoned the weather bureau here three times in the past two days, but the ominous forecast remained unchanged. The Midshipmen haven't checked at all.

Meantime, Philadelphia got set for the invasion. Virtually every hotel room has been sold for the weekend. Even a late-arriving general or admiral might have difficulty getting accommodations.

Tickets to this fist meeting between the service academies, usually hard to get, are available.

"And reasonable," says a ticket broker who himself had none for sale.

Every 44 minutes, a murder is committed in the United States.

Sheffield Cagers Open Season Tonight Against The Magician

A second county high school basketball squad swings into action tonight, with others to join in the court parade Friday night.

Tonight's game pines the Sheffield Wolverines against the Mt.
Jewett Magicians, and will be played on the Sheffield court. It will be the first game of the season for both squads.

The local high school court campaign got under way Tuesday night when Sugar Grove posted a 49-36 triumph over St. Joseph's of Titusville. Gail Frank, veteran sharpshooter for the Governors, paced his team with a 26-point performance.

The Sheffield squad has three lettermen back from last year.
They are Captain Ed Eisenhauer,
Jerry Cederlof and Jim Albaugh.

Twenty-eight players answered first call for candidates this year at Sheffield High, and Coach
Ralph Santo has paired the squad to 20 men. The squad doesn't have too much height, but shows every indication of having plenty of speed and aggressiveness.

Highlight of tomorrow night full court program, as far as cal fans are concerned, is neighborhood clash between Warren Dragons and the Younville Eagles at Beatty gym.

Other games, all of them e-tain-raises, include:
Elmer S. Stevens, graduate
Mansfield and the University Pennsylvania. He is a former coach of Meshoppen school in Wyoming county and year took over as principal of Jewett and also the coaching, relinquished last summer by Ellsworth McCarthy.

Data Is Requested Schools Reopen At For State Booklets Youngsville With On Camps, Fishing Teachers All Back

Compilation of data for two of its annual publications—"Fishing Accommodations in Pennsylvania," and "Summer Camps in Pennsylvania," has been begun for the 1951 editions, the Pennsylvania Department of Commerce vacation and recreation division at Harrisburg reports.

The booklet will be available for distribution about the end of February.

The fishing booklet will contain the names and addresses of hotels, inns, camps, mountain houses and other places where overnight accommodations will be available, a digest of the 1951 fishing laws and other information of value to anglers. Persons whose establishments have been previously listed will receive the usual questionnaire which must be filled out and returned to the Department.

Persons whose establishments have not been included in the booklet and who desire to be listed should send their names to the Department at once and questionnaires will be forwarded seeking detailed information.

The same procedure is being followed in obtaining information regarding organized summer camps for boys and girls in Pennsylvania. Last year nearly 300 such camps were listed in the Department's booklet.

The Orange Circle meeting will be held December 5 at the home of Mrs. Belle Sample, with an exchange of 50-cent gifts. The session is being held on Tuesday afternoon in order not to conflict with the WSCS bazaar being held in the church basement Wednesday.

Rev. E. W. Chitester, Youngsville Methodist pastor, will have the religious program over WNAE Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. Rev. Mr. Chitester on a hunting trip brought down a red fox the other day. He said the snow in the woods was in places waist deep and it looks as if it were going to be very difficult for deer to get food because of this very deep snow.

Youngsville was represented by several citizens Tuesday evening who enjoyed the illustrated lecture by Lowell Thomas Jr. given in Warren.

Hunters Pay $100 For Killing Bucks During Doe Season

Titusville Herald:—Two hunters tried to haul frozen deer out of the woods yesterday and were caught at it.

Each was fined $100 by Game Protector Elmer Simpson of Union City for killing bucks during doe season, which was illegal. Moreover, the deer were confiscated.

The hunters were nabbed during a routine check in Union City. Mr. Simpson would ordinarily have been out in the woods during that time of day in his law enforcement activities, but it so happened he tore the rear end out of his auto and had to have it repaired.

While he was in the borough he saw a car come along with a buck lashed to the fender. He stopped the driver to check his license and examined the deer, to find it was stone cold and frozen. A deer killed the same day retains some of its body heat for a time, and it was evident that buck was shot the day before.

When Mr. Simpson disposed of that case and was crossing the street, another buck-lader car came along. It was the same story all over again—cold deer, cold cash.

District Game Protector Samuel B. Shade made one area arrest Tuesday—of a non-resident hunting with a resident license. The penalty of $50 was paid.

ATTENTION G. I.'s

Many G. I.'s feel that they cannot afford to have a new home. A new home under the present credit regulation is your best buy—smaller down payment, longer term to pay, smaller monthly payments, less upkeep. It takes a long time to arrange for a construction loan, plans, specifications, appraisal of prints, etc., see me at once about starting a new home early in the spring. I can really help you and show you how you can have a nice new home for a very reasonable monthly payment far below the monthly rental value of the home.
